Open Bids On Monday For UR Job

Expect to Award Contracts Shortly

The first physical signs of Urban Renewal might become a reality this month or next with the opening of bids Monday for demolition of approximately 80 structures in the Downtown Broadway East Projects.

Eric Hemphill, executive director for the Kingston UR Agency, said that bids would be received until 1:30 p. m. Monday at the UR Agency office, 436 Broadway, and that the bids would be publicly opened and read aloud at 2 p. m. the same day in the board room of the executive director.

Awarding Shortly

Hemphill said that awarding of the contract was expected to be made within the next few days with actual demolition activity to start by the end of the month.

The demolition work — which presently involves some 79 structures — will clear the way for a tract to be sold to the Kingston Housing Authority for a 135-unit housing development. It was announced earlier that the UR Agency was expected to award the demolition contract Jan. 21 so that actual demolition might begin shortly after.

The structures scheduled for demolition under terms of the contract are located on Meadow Street, lower Hasbrouck Avenue, Murray Street, Gross Street, Newkirk Avenue and Theresa Lane.

Under terms of the contract, Hemphill said, the successful bidder will be required to furnish and pay for satisfactory performance and payment bond or bonds in the amount of not less than 100 per cent of the estimated amount. An acceptable surety company is any one included in the latest issue of the U. S. Treasury Department Circular 570 listings.

Cites Salaries

Hemphill called attention to the fact that not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the contracts documents must be paid on the project.

He said that the Kingston UR Agency reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to waive any informalities in the bidding. Bids may be held by the Agency for a period not to exceed 30 days from the date of the opening of the bids for the purpose of reviewing the bids and investigation of the qualifications of the bidders prior to awarding the contract, Hemphill said.

Vietnamese Assured Peace Bids Are Not Undercutting

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk launched a whirlwind round of talks with South Viet Nam's top leaders today, reportedly to assure them President Johnson's peace efforts will not undercut the Saigon regime.

Rusk, accompanied by special presidential envoy W. Averell Harriman, met briefly with Chief of State Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu and then talked for an hour with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and Foreign Minister Tran Van Do.

Talks Interesting

"We had very interesting talks. We are going to see each other again tonight," Rusk told newsmen, apparently referring to his dinner engagement with Ky.

He declined to say what subjects were discussed at the meetings, but diplomatic sources said he came here to tell Ky that Johnson's diplomatic moves on ending the war in Viet Nam would not pull the rug from under Ky's regime.

Rusk also met with U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and other American officials. Ky, in a speech at the closing ceremony of the second Armed Forces Day congress warned that whatever peace moves are generated, "no other nation is qualified and able to decide our destiny, independently of our own will."

He praised the current peace offensive with a special word for Pope Paul VI, but warned all would-be peace makers to beware of making any deals without his government's sanctions.

Grateful for Support

"We have accepted and are grateful for the moral and material, military and economic assistance from the friendly countries," he said. "But never can we tolerate any interference harmful to our nation's sovereignty or any decision at variance with our people's aspirations."

Declaring "we are determined not to be Communist," Ky said his war Cabinet has attained some political stability and as this grows, the machinery will be created for democracy, which he said is the only force that can destroy communism.

He promised that "real democratic elections" will be held in 1967.

"The armed forces have assumed power, not with the intention of clinging to it, but to create the necessary conditions for setting up a genuine democracy," he said.

Ky said his government planned to create a "democracy building council" after the lunar

New Year which will hold seminars throughout the country on a proposed new constitution. Points raised in the seminars will be incorporated into the document and it will be put to a referendum next October, he said.

Says Army Coup Has Overthrown Nigeria's Rulers

PARIS (AP) — The French news agency said today in a dispatch from Lome, Togo, that information had been received there that the army had taken power in Lagos, Nigeria. There were no details.

Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa, who presided only this week at a British Commonwealth meeting in Lagos was reported under house arrest.

Washington also heard that the Nigerian army had overthrown the government but information reaching the U.S. capital was fragmentary, though Laos, the Nigerian capital, was reported calm. About 1,000 Americans live in the western region of Nigeria and none appear to have been harmed, U.S. sources said.

Moscow radio reported: "The only thing that is known is that the 8,000-strong Nigerian army is commanded by Maj. Gen. Azikiwe Ironsi."

Unconfirmed reports in Cotonou said that the prime minister of West Nigeria and North Nigeria had been killed. Chief Akintola was the prime minister of West Nigeria and Surdar Ahmad Bello of North Nigeria. These reports were passed on by reliable sources who refused to be named.

Some ministers in the West Nigerian government also were reported to have been slain. Widespread disorders were reported in this region, which apparently left casualties. Police and the army were reported to be cooperating to restore order.

Wire, telephone and cable connections with Nigeria were severed.

Telephone, radio and telegrams were reported to be (Continued on Page 5, Col. 5)

Wires Hot On Transit Settlement

LBJ Scores Pact As Inflationary

NEW YORK (AP) — Over the roar of New York's transit system, volleys of subway sharpshooting fly between Washington and City Hall.

President Johnson Thursday attacked the settlement of the 12-day bus and subway strike as inflationary. He said the terms exceeded the government's 3.2 per cent guideline on wages and prices.

Facts Not Known

Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay suggested that Johnson "was not as familiar with all the facts of this case as was Wirtz."

He was referring to W. Willard Wirtz, secretary of labor, who fired off a telegram to Lindsay Friday night saying Johnson's statement reflects "the facts in this case as I know them."

He added: "Your recollection and your arithmetic are wrong. The settlement may have been necessary to relieve the city from unconscionable bondage. But it was unquestionably outside the stabilization policies."

A spokesman for the mayor said Lindsay had not received the telegram and would have no comment on it until he did.

The transportation crisis ended before dawn Thursday when the Transit Authority and the striking unions agreed on a settlement estimated at between $52 and $70 million over two years.

Pact In Excess

Government economists figure the wage increase in the package at 4.5 to 4.6 per cent a year, in excess of the 3.2 per cent guidelines. These guidelines — the observance of which is voluntary — reflect government estimates that a worker's productivity increases at 3.2 per cent a year.

Pastor Is Named To Rights Post; Served in Area

A former Ulster County Methodist minister, the Rev. George T. Johnson, begins work today as the James J. Reeb Civil Rights Worker for the Unitarian Universalist Association.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson served the Clintondale and Modena Methodist Churches for four years before his transfer three years ago. While here he was active in the New Paltz Area migrant ministry in addition to his pastorate.

In his new post he will serve as roving civil rights field worker for the Unitarian Universalist denomination in the United States and Canada.

His first assignment will be in the Roxbury section of Boston, where the Rev. Mr. Reeb was working in the area of civil rights before being fatally clubbed in Selma, Ala., last March.

His new work has been approved by Methodist Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke of the New York Area who said, "We are happy to lend-lease one of our ministers to make this contribution in memory of the martyred James J. Reeb. We know that this will be a rewarding relationship for all concerned."

In announcing the appointment of the 36-year-old Negro minister, UUA President Dr. Dana McLean Greeley said, "In memory of James Reeb and in order to carry out his work, our denominational Freedom Fund is

JCC Will Start New Member Drive Sunday

The Kingston Jewish Community Center will launch its annual membership campaign Sunday, Jan. 16, Sam Berger, president, said Friday.

The local social group is a member of the Ulster County Community Chest and depends upon family memberships to supplement its budget to support its program of clubs, athletics and campaign.

See Legislative Drag For Gotham's Aid Plan

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller wants to speed $100 million to New York City to clear its financial picture, but Uptate Democrats and Republicans say the plan is headed for a slowdown in the Legislature.

One legislator said Friday that he expected Uptate members of both parties to be "very skeptical" on any proposals for additional state aid exclusively for New York City.

Rockefeller pledged the aid Thursday, following settlement of the 13-day transit strike in the city.

The governor said he would ask the Legislature to authorize payment, before the current state fiscal year ends March 31, of:

- $20 million in additional revenues from the stock-transfer tax.
- $31 million in public-relief funds not ordinarily paid until April.
- $49 million in additional school aid as settlement of a payment deferred more than 30 years ago.

Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia, a New York City Democrat, approved the governor's plan but voiced criticism of its approach.

Uptate Democrats, however, are not eager to involve themselves in the plan.

Aldo Moro Presses To End War in Viet

ROME (AP) — Italian Premier Aldo Moro, bolstered by a confidence vote in the Chamber of Deputies, was expected to press ahead today with efforts to help end the Viet Nam war.

Moro won the vote by 325 to 154, well above the 240 votes needed. He closed the two-day debate with a speech supporting President Johnson's diplomatic offensive to get Viet Nam peace talks started.

Encouraged U.S.

"We have encouraged the American government above all in that vigorous and sincere peace initiative which began with the Christmas truce and the indefinite suspension of bombing in North Viet Nam," Moro said.

The premier added that, in "this particularly decisive moment" of the Viet Nam crisis, Italy was trying to help on three peace fronts:

— Recommending to its allies and friends patience and a will to negotiate.

— Asking non-allied nations to be "helpful mediators."

— Suggesting to Communist countries that they show interest in overcoming world tensions.

Approved Policy

The confidence motion approved not only Moro's Viet Nam policy but also the way he took on the additional job of foreign minister.

Moro assumed the role Dec. 29 when Amintore Fanfani quit in the wake of criticism for his part in a Hanoi peace-feeler mission. Italian Communists and extreme leftists had tried to build the switchover into a crisis but the confidence vote punctured their efforts.

The motion supporting Moro was carried by four government coalition parties — the Christian Democrats, Socialists, Democrats, Socialists and Republicans.

Moro emphasized that his

Contract Signed By UC Planners For Water Study

A contract clearing the way for a two-year study of water resources and future resource development in Ulster County was signed Friday between the County Planning Board and the local engineering firm of Brininger & Larios, designated to conduct the study, it was announced today.

Richard Eiert, Planning Board director told The Freeman that the contract was signed by Ralph Brach as board chairman, and Christos Larios on behalf of the engineering firm. He said that the Planning Board was optimistic that the contract would receive prompt approval by the State Department of Health, which is the contracting agency for the $82,900 study.

Supervisor Clarence C. Raichle (R-12th Ward), chairman of the Industrial Development Committee of the Board of Supervisors, heralded the signing of the contract yesterday as a positive step forward toward increasing the competitive position of Ulster County in future years of residential, commercial and industrial developments.

The plan calls for a study of the county as a whole and an

Federation Sets Feb. 1 Work Halt

Believe Majority Will Be on Jobs

Acting swiftly to take every avenue in an attempt to stay a threatened teachers' strike of Feb. 1 in the Kingston School District Consolidated, the Board of Education at a special meeting Friday afternoon instructed its attorney to seek a court injunction on Monday.

Vincent G. Connelly, attorney for the school district, said he would prepare the necessary papers during the weekend and submit them in Supreme Court, probably on Monday.

Map Strike Plans

Meanwhile, a committee of members of the Kingston Teachers' Federation, convened at a session in strike headquarters at the Stuyvesant Hotel to map plans for the strike, which was voted by the federation at a meeting Wednesday afternoon by a 2-1 margin.

Howard O. Rust, president of the KTF, told The Freeman that a picket system would be organized by the committee later today.

Arthur H. Withall, president of the Board of Education, said after yesterday's special meeting with the attorney, that the board voted to instruct the attorney to immediately institute proceedings in Supreme Court to seek an injunction "and take any other legal steps" he felt necessary to invoke to the fullest extent the Condon-Wadlin Law.

"The Board is confident that the majority of teachers in the Kingston School System will be in their respective schools on Feb. 1 and thereafter," Withall said. "The Board also is confident that regular classes will be conducted in the event of the strike."

May Scrap Atom Smasher Project Sought for Area

The Atomic Energy Commission may scrap its plans to build a $348 million atom smasher, it was learned today.

The Associated Press reported that a source outside the commission said Thursday that three alternative proposals are under consideration.

He said that each would be cheaper, and each would be for a machine of lesser intensity than the proposed 200-billion electron volt BEV accelerator which would be used for basic research.

Some 85 communities in 43 states have been scrambling to win the project for their areas. Among these in the area is a Hunter Mountain tract in Greene County.

Only a week ago it was reported that the site, almost definitely ruled out of contention as possible location for the U.S. Atomic Accelerator Lab earlier this year, could still get the nod.

Informed sources said Jan. 5 that the National Academy of Science in Washington, D. C., had eliminated New York State from a list of possible locations in preference of other Midwest or Western states only. However, Glenn T. Seaborg, AEC chairman, reportedly gave assurances to Rep. Samuel S. Stratton (D-Amsterdam) that the state was still under consideration for the AEC project.

Hunter Mountain Development Corporation, directed by Isidore and Orville Slutsky, had applied for consideration as home base for the atom site last year and remained in the running throughout discussion of the project.

Meanwhile, a congressman with an influential role in atomic development on a national scale, made a comment on the latest reports to the AP.

Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., a member of the joint Senate-House Atomic Committee, was told of the report.

"To me, it looks like possibly

"...you would not be seeking for Me if you had not found Me."
Blaise Pascal (The Mystery of Jesus)

Shelly Mydans, wife, mother and author, spent much of her early life, as she puts it, "...with an almost unbelief and suffered with it." She adds, "During the seeking and worrying I have found the quote of Pascal's a great comfort."

Like most of us, Mrs. Mydans was born and raised in the church of her parents. And like many of us she felt the need for a deep personal faith. This spiritual revelation comes only through experience, meditation and searching. Mrs. Mydans knows all three. Having lived in many parts of the world her experiences have been many and varied. She was interned with her husband by the Japanese during World War II. She said, "Before we were captured I was terribly afraid of the Japanese but after capture I lost my fear and did not hate them. I learned never to be afraid of the unknown." This was a sign of the maturity of faith. From her meditation and searching has come her writing. Her study and research on the medieval church crystallized her own need for a formal religion. From the whole has come a power of faith that is evident in her books and her personal life. She concluded: "Take time to sit and contemplate—take much time. Then go to books and people and search out the answers." The maturity of our faith comes only through much effort and work.

Catholics Will Observe Prayer Week Services

For the first time, the Week of Prayers for Christian Unity Jan. 18 through 25 will be recommended by the Bishops Commission for Ecumenical Affairs for use by Roman Catholics.

The Week of Prayer is sponsored by the World Council and the National Council of Churches, faith and order departments. On the local level the week will be observed through a unity prayer service for all Christians, Anglicans, Orthodox, Protestants and Roman Catholics. Service will be held at St. John's Episcopal Church Sunday, Jan. 23, 8 p. m.

Arrangements for the service are being made by the group of clergy who have been meeting monthly in informal theological dialogues, coordinated by the Rev. Charles Koerber, CSSR, of Mt. St. Alphonsus Seminary, Esopus and the Rev. Ronald D. Lokhorst, pastor of the Port Ewen Reformed Church.

A SHINING GUIDE

Someone has said of the Golden Rule, by way of pointing up its enduringly effective counsel, that despite all of its abuse and misuse "it still is a shining guide to the business of getting along with people."

In the whole area of human relations we make the problems more complicated than they really are. We doctor symptoms instead of diseases—and no doctor ever got very far in the curing of a malady until he by his diagnosis can deduce from the evidence what is the symptom and what is disease—or malfunction. Symptoms are the tracks the thief leaves in the snow. They are the hints as to what may be the trouble.

One thing is certain: nothing artificial ever can solve in any permanently satisfactory way the problems that arise in the relationships between human beings on this shrinking planet. We resort to legal measures and overlook the healing therapy of kindness. We try sometimes so

Bard Professor To Be Unitarian Speaker Sunday

This Sunday the Unitarian Fellowship of Ulster County will have as their guest speaker, David C. Pierce, assistant professor of religion at Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson. Professor Pierce will speak on the topic, The Shape of Religion in the complex society, has, as many other institutions changed and is changing. Professor Pierce will explore all the influences that have molded modern religious thought.

Before coming to Bard, Mr. Pierce was the pastor of the Palisades Presbyterian Church, Palisades, from 1958 to 1964. Prior to that he was associate pastor at the Webb Horton Memorial Presbyterian Church, Middletown, from 1956 to 1958. Professor Pierce received his BA from the College of Wooster. The election of officers, stewards, committees and commissions will be held upon report of the nominating committee. Three trustees will also be elected. Terms expire for George L. Berry, Paul E. Jones and C. Fred Seeger. They may be reelected.

Commission reports will be given by George Washbourne, Miss Katherine Bower, Lewis Woodham, Percy Russell and Stephen Josefski. The superintendent's report will be given by Kenneth Pearson. Miss Bertha Waterman will give the Wesleyan Service Guild's report.

Treasurers' reporting will be Mrs. Leonard Helme, Irving Kotzky, George L. Barry, W. Anderson Carl, Miss Matilda Martin and Miss Waterman.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

TOP PRIORITY ITEM

By any test of sanity, the top priority item on the agenda of the reconvening Congress, after national defense, should be an investigation into the carnage on our highways.

This IS, in fact, a matter of national defense—defense against an internal enemy which:

Killed more Americans (1,780) in the 10-day span that included Christmas and New Year's than have been lost in all the years of our engagement in Viet Nam . . .

Claimed 720 lives over the Christmas weekend alone, a record for any holiday of any duration . . .

Set a new highwater mark of 47,000 deaths in the one year of 1965, 13,000 more than the battlefield total in the three years of the Korean War.

One Congressman, indeed, has "blood in his eye" concerning this subject.

"No death on the battlefields is more agonizing than the death of a loved one on the highway," said Rep. James A. MacKay of Georgia the other day as he announced that he plans to introduce a bill to create a national traffic safety administration.

We have a Federal Aviation Agency which employs 47,000 persons to handle the job of regulating traffic on the nation's airways, he noted, yet "only 12 per cent of the American population flies each year and only 40 per cent has ever been in an airplane."

MacKay's projected administration would be a superagency designed to provide leadership for and co-ordinate the activities of 16 existing federal agencies and some 45 private groups involved in traffic safety.

He also proposes a national testing center to establish standards on such items of auto equipment as tires, lights, brakes and horsepower, the last of which, he says, "is now so far ahead of roads that it almost assures accidents."

The Congressman's bill is undoubtedly not the best of all possible approaches to the problem but it seems to be the only proposal around. It must not be shoved into some corner pigeonhole under the pressure of more urgent business.

Not many things are more urgent than the wiping out of a population the size of Newport, R. I., every 12 months.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT AGAIN

The sound of the grinding of gears is discernible in Washington. After a more than usually quiet hiatus, with both a can-do chief executive and a will-do Congress absent, the capital is again shifting toward full speed ahead.

President Johnson's operation and convalescence have forced even so notably energetic a man to slow down. Both this, and the fact that he was in Texas rather than at the White House, removed some of the usual pressure on government agencies. At the same time, most senators and representatives have either been traveling or repairing political fences at home. This, too, has left Washington somewhat less the newsmaking center than it generally is.

Change is afoot. President Johnson is back at the White House. Congress will reconvene on the 10th. The budget, the State of the Union message, a debate on Vietnam and many other newsworthy developments will soon focus national attention on the capital once more.

A TOUCH OF MANANA

Medical science keeps nibbling away at the foundations of the popular view that the way to live a happy, successful life is to get out and hustle. A recent study of about 3,500 men in San Francisco, for instance, suggests that the hustling, aggressive "go-getter" is likelier than the easy-going fellow to have a heart attack.

Those in the test group were healthy men between the ages of 39 and 59. Of the 70 who suffered heart attacks, 54—about 85 per cent—proved to be men preoccupied "with competitive activity, vocational deadlines and similar pressures."

We cannot quite bring ourselves to recommend, accordingly, a slack, ho-hum sort of existence. Still, a touch of the manana spirit might make existence longer.

Global View

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (NEA)—How close are peace negotiations in Viet Nam? East European diplomats see North Viet Nam inching closer to the Russians in their conflict with Communist China.

North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh, in their view, will eventually join North Korea, Fidel Castro's Cuba and other Communist nations which once backed Mao Tse-tung but lately have deserted his camp.

Ho Chi Minh, trained as a Communist in Moscow, always was regarded as pro-Russian. However, he has to move cautiously to appease the strong pro-Chinese faction in Hanoi.

China's growing isolation even in the Communist world is therefore believed to be the reason for President Johnson's accelerated global peace offensive.

It also throws new light on Aleksandr Shelepin's mission to North Viet Nam. Shelepin, a leading member of the Kremlin's ruling Presidium, was recently assigned to organize an international Communist conclave to "excommunicate" Red China.

Moscow's super-secretive leaders never engage in open diplomacy unless they are sure of some success. Shelepin's visit to Hanoi is therefore regarded as another indication that North Viet Nam is maneuvering to switch sides in the Sino-Soviet quarrel.

The eastern diplomats mentioned earlier attach special significance to the fact that Shelepin embarked on his mission after several weeks of negotiations with Nguyen Van Dong, noted Vietnamese scholar and chief of the Viet Cong's "diplomatic mission" in Moscow.

Similar Viet Cong missions recently have been established in Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Poland and East Germany. This despite the fact that Mao Tse-tung has repeatedly branded the Russians and their East European satellites as "revisionists" and tools of American imperialism.

If the Communists are true to form they are likely to continue their unbridled attacks on the United States even after peace negotiations have started.

Nor can anyone predict under what conditions they will go to the diplomatic conference table. But Nguyen Van Dong recently stated in Moscow that the Viet Cong no longer demand a complete withdrawal of U.S. troops from Viet Nam before negotiations are opened. Radio Prague, which takes its cue from Moscow, hailed the statement as "unexpected" and "welcome."

More indicative of the new diplomatic winds blowing from North Viet Nam is the fact that the leader of Hanoi's pro-Chinese faction, Truong Chinh, recently described Russia's policy of peaceful coexistence in unusually friendly terms.

Obviously in defiance of China, he also praised "the socialist countries" that are helping Viet Nam against "the American invaders."

Even more lavish in his praise of the Russians and their East European satellites was Dang Quang Minh, chief of the Viet Cong delegation in Hungary.

"All socialist countries are helping us materially and morally," he said. "This friendly, steadfast and concrete assistance mounts each day."

The Viet Cong representative thus openly challenged Red China's assertions that Russia and the other "revisionist" nations are conspiring with the United States.

There is no doubt that the Russians, who fear Chinese domination of Southeast Asia, favor a peaceful solution of the Viet Nam conflict. As usual, they hope to gain more at the conference table than through a military confrontation.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The stepped-up war between Moscow and Peking will bring the U. S. more headaches.

Some administration leaders had hoped that once Brezhnev's group in the Kremlin became convinced they couldn't get along with Mao Tse-tung, the door would be open for U. S.-Soviet cooperation on some knotty Asian problems and in preventing the spread of nuclear weapons to non-nuclear lands.

Some diplomats hoped that one thing might even lead to another and a handful of U. S. and Soviet tensions might be eased in Europe, the Middle East, Africa and in the arms race.

BUT IT'S NOT working out that way—even though, as in the India-Red China clash, Moscow and Washington seemed to be backing the same side (Delhi).

Brezhnev is now flirting with Pakistan, suggesting aid and support—in direct competition with Red China.

But at the same time Brezhnev is trying to pull Pakistan away from its U. S. ties.

The Kremlin's men are now working to exploit the present wreckage of the Chinese Communist party in Indonesia.

Moscow diplomats are attempting to convince the Indonesian army men that there are "good" Communists and "bad" Communists, the "good" being Moscow-oriented and the "bad" Peking-oriented. The Russians offer more aid if the army will go easy on the Moscow types.

The Russians have leverage here because of their past hefty arms help to the Indonesians.

But the Moscow men in Indonesia are also spending their time cutting down the Americans.

Moscow has just signed a new trade pact with Pyongyang calculated to pull the North Koreans away from the Red Chinese.

What's needed is to find a way to get Red China and Russia to trip each other up—regularly.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

In the 1946 Kingston City Directory on page 55 there is a half page advertisement showing a photograph of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's monument built by Byrne Brothers at Hyde Park. They were then at Broadway, Henry and Van Deusen Streets where the Roundout National Bank is today. The Byrne Brothers concern was established in 1900 and were constructors of and dealers in granite and marble memorials and master craftsmen, the item explained.

In the Holiday magazine of September, 1949, which issue covers the Hudson River on page 87 it tells how Roosevelt in his busy and active life found time to describe his own tombstone, which instructions were followed. It was to be made of Imperial Danby marble from the same quarry in Vermont which produced the marble for the Thomas Jefferson Memorial in Washington.

In a memorandum dated Dec. 26, 1937, the text of which has been followed meticulously, the late President wrote: "A plain white monument—no carving or decoration—to be placed over my grave, east and west, as follows: Length, 8 feet; width, 4 feet; height, 3 feet. Whole to be set on marble base extending 2 feet out from monument all around— but said base to be no more than 6 inches from the ground. I hope that my dear wife will on her death be buried there also and that the monument contain no date or inscription except the following on the south side: 'Franklin Delano Roosevelt 1882-1945.' Anna Eleanor Roosevelt 1884-1963." The dates of their deaths were of course filled in, in due time. The grounds at Hyde Park were formally opened to the public in April 12, 1946.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt became the first president in history of the country to be elected to a third term, and by a huge majority—and then won a fourth. He did not see the end of his term nor the end of World War II for he died in April of 1945. A day before his death the following was written by him for a proposed speech: "The only limit to our realization of tomorrow will be our doubts of today. Let us move forward with strong and active faith."

First day ceremonies will be held on Saturday, Jan. 29, at Hyde Park, New York for the new six cent Franklin D. Roosevelt stamp. This brown stamp is based on a photograph made aboard the British battleship, Prince of Wales, Aug. 15, 1941, the day after President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill had signed the Atlantic Charter. No doubt some collectors may even use the five cent Churchill stamp together with the new brown six cent Roosevelt stamp, as both are good portraits. I suppose a number of Kingston and Ulster County residents will gather at Hyde Park on Jan. 29, 1966 for this event.

Since the Fulton stamp was cancelled at Kingston for Clement I found many readers have become interested in stamps and covers, and have asked me to again try and decorate some covers for this new Roosevelt stamp. I made a number of Roosevelt covers, and will leave some with William B. Fairley of the Tri-County Business Machine at his place, 448 Broadway and also at the O'Reilly Office Equipment Inc., at 611 Broadway, for those who care to see and get some. There are so many various phases in FDR's life to work out designs, yet there is very little space on an envelope for any details. Will leave some up to you, as I make some more, in different colors and designs as the ideas come to me.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Saturday, Jan. 15. Today is the 15th day of 1966. There are 350 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1929, the Senate ratified the Kellogg-Briand Treaty under which 46 nations agreed to abolish war as an instrument of national policy.

On this date
In 1559, Queen Elizabeth was crowned in Westminster Abbey.

In 1862, Edwin M. Stanton was appointed secretary of war, embarking on probably the most turbulent career in the history of that office.

In 1889, a poem of worldwide interest, "The Man With the Hoe," appeared in the San Francisco Examiner. It brought immediate fame to its author, Edwin Markham.

In 1926, Japan withdrew from the five-power London Naval Conference.

In 1944, American forces captured a mountain-top obstacle on the road to Cassino, Italy.

Ten years ago—Six persons were killed in a fire in a Milwaukee tenement.

Five years ago—The U.S. Air Force Texas tower radar station, moored off the New Jersey coast, sank during a storm; 14 Air Force personnel and 14 civilian workers were killed.

One year ago—Sir Winston Churchill suffered a stroke; his condition was called extremely grave.

In Egypt, only about 8,000,000 acres of land along the Nile can be cultivated.

Seek $5 Million To Aid Children In Poverty Areas

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller will seek a $5 million appropriation to finance a pre-school program for slum children in an effort to "break the tragic circle of poverty that dooms" them.

At the same time Friday, the Republican governor said he also would ask the Legislature to appropriate $4 million for state aid to local day-care centers for children of working parents.

Latest in Series

The two requests are the latest in a series advanced in the past week by the governor, who says he will not seek tax increases.

The pre-kindergarten program, Rockefeller said, would help children develop learning skills before entering regular school.

The program would be open to all children who "had the ill luck to be born and raised in an environment without books, without pictures, without music... without all the learning advantages other children have," he said.

A circle of poverty, Rockefeller said, "dooms many children of the poor to cultural deprivation, lack of achievement in school, unemployment and more poverty."

Vetoed Measure

Last year, the governor vetoed a measure passed by the then Democratic-controlled Legislature to finance a similar program because, he said, the state budget did not provide for it.

The day-care center plan would expand a program created last year with an initial appropriation of $500,000.

Rockefeller said the centers could care for children whose parents would otherwise apply for public assistance. If parents were assured their children were being supervised, they would seek employment, he said.

The budget for the fiscal year beginning April 1 is expected to reach $4 billion, an increase of $500 million over current expenditures.

Board Instructs

tion of classes in all schools if the teachers' walkout on Feb. 1 Rust said:

"The court action is no surprise. I think the Board is making a mistake in what it is doing, and mistaken in the courage of the teachers and its ideas that the schools will be able to operate on Feb. 1 effectively."

Withall said the Board conferred at length with Attorney Connelly at yesterday's meeting. He said all administrators had been instructed to arrange schedules and be prepared to meet any eventuality that might develop. If the KTF members withheld all professional services as stated in a release on Friday.

School district officials admitted that a work stoppage by the KTF members probably would result in "some confusion" on Feb. 1 but routine operation of the schools would be carried out in a short time.

Is First Legal Step

The application in Supreme Court for an injunction seeking to restrain the KTF members from striking two weeks from Tuesday, will be the first legal step to be taken by the school district officials in their attempt to prevent the walkout a board member said.

The Condon-Wadlin Law, which was co-authored by John F. Wadlin of Highland, prohibits strikes by public employees.

The Board of Education has branded the decision of the KTF to withhold all professional services starting Feb. 1 as "an illegal act," and said it would use all means available to keep the Kingston Schools in operation.

The KTF president said that the rejection by the Board of Education of the federation's request for a secret ballot election to determine which teachers' group, if any, should represent all teachers in the Kingston School System in collective bargaining, left no alternative to the KTF but to vote to strike.

Opposed to Strikes

Louis A. Salzman, president of the Kingston Teachers' Association said earlier that the KTA is definitely opposed to strikes by teachers. He also claimed that the KTF membership is in the minority.

KTA spokesmen had no comment today on late remarks by the KTF president or on the decision by the Board to immediately launch court proceedings.

Aldo Moro . . .

government had an "understanding" for the U.S. position in Viet Nam.

Signifies Respect

Understanding signifies natural respect, dutiful attention toward the greatest of our allied friends," he said.

But, he added, "the spirit of friendship and an objective consideration of realities have not stopped us from encouraging the American government to moderation and prudence in a way that there be controlled a difficult and painful and dangerous situation."

Moro said his government was following President Johnson's Viet Nam diplomatic offensive "with trust and full favor."

During the debate, Fanfani defended his position in two controversial statements that led up to his resignation.

Said Hanoi Willing

As U.N. General Assembly president Fanfani passed on to the White House last November a report from his friend, former Florence Mayor Giorgio La Pira, that Hanoi was willing to negotiate peace, North Viet Nam denied it after the report got into print.

A rightist Italian magazine reported that La Pira criticized U.S. and Italian leaders during a party at Fanfani's house in December. La Pira later said he had been jesting.

Fanfani quit as foreign minister after he was accused of trying to stir up an Italian government crisis and of sharing La Pira's views.

"I had to prove," Fanfani said Friday, "that I was acting with our greatest allies in the study of the Viet Nam problem."

"Without sharing judgments like those that have been printed," he said.

"I preferred personal sacrifice to insensitivity."

Lindsay said Dr. Nathan Feinsinger, chairman of the mediation panel that worked out the settlement, now feels that the agreement will represent a 3.6 per cent increase. Earlier, Feinsinger had said he did not believe it would exceed the guidelines.

Lindsay said Secretary Wirtz had been helpful and was familiar with every step of the negotiations. But, he said, it was not the secretary's "role to pass judgment on the ultimate settlement."

Wirtz, in his telegram to Lindsay, said he had consistently pointed out to "you and to the panel members my view that it was most important that this case be settled with due regard to the national stabilization policies."

Point Stressed

The secretary added that the point had been emphasized again in a news conference in Washington and in a subsequent telephone conversation with Lindsay.

Meanwhile, Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, AFL-CIO, the man who called the crippling strike, was reported at Mt. Sinai Hospital.

He left Bellevue Hospital Thursday night after he and eight other union leaders were released from custody. They had been jailed for calling the strike in defiance of a court injunction. Quill collapsed shortly after his arrest and was admitted to Bellevue.

Cottkill

COTTEKILL—In the absence of the Rev. Harry Christiana, vacationing in Florida, the Rev. William R. Peckham of Woodstock will be guest minister at Cottekill Reformed Church Sunday. Worship service is at 9:30 a. m. and Sunday School convenes at 10:30 a. m. All local residents are invited to attend.

Mrs. John McGraw of Kingston spent Friday with her sister, Mrs. Arthur DePuy.

Dutchess Woman Burned in Blaze Reported as Fair

A 20-year-old Pleasant Valley girl, who suffered burns in an early-morning fire today in her home in that Dutchess County community, was reported in fair condition at St. Francis' Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Claudia Cooke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cooke, of Downing Road, Pleasant Valley, suffered first, second and third degree burns.

Deputy sheriffs from Dutchess County said that the family was awakened about 2:15 this morning by the screams of Miss Cooke. They said that upon opening the door of the girl's room, they found that her pajamas and the mattress to her bed were afire.

Fire fighters from Pleasant Valley under Chief Mike Cady, responded and extinguished the blaze. They said that there was no fire damage to the bedroom, but the bed and mattress were destroyed. They said that a cigarette might have been the cause of the fire.

Deputy Jack Bjelis investigated.

In another blaze Friday, fire caused extensive damage to the warehouse of the Beacon Furniture Company on Commerce Street in that Dutchess County city.

Police said that three companies responded to the alarm at the two-story brick structure. The warehouse was located apart from the furniture store on Main Street, which remained open for business today. However, Marvin Isaacs, owner of the store, said that damage to furniture lost in the warehouse fire was estimated in the thousands.

The blaze broke out about 11:15 a. m. Firemen returned to service at 4:10 p. m., but were called back at 9:22 to wet down embers. They returned to service again at 9:42 p. m.

King's Dean to Speak At Ulster Park Church

Howard Blandau, Dean of Students at King's College, Briar Cliff Manor, will be guest speaker at the Union Center Community Church, Ulster Park, on Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. A graduate of King's College, Dean Blandau holds a Masters Degree from State College of Iowa. He served as chaplain of the Iowa State Training School in Eldora for eight years. From 1960 to 1963 he held the position of Assistant Dean of Men at Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. During the summer of 1960 he also served as field director of the Israel-American Institute of Biblical Studies in Jerusalem.

Accompanying Blandau to Ulster Park will be a team of students from King's College, who will present several musical selections during the program. The public is invited to attend the Sunday evening meeting.

City Judge Hubert A. Richter ordered a pre-sentence investigation today into the case of a Kingston man who admitted a charge of third degree assault.

John Lee Wilkerson, 35, of 245 East Strand, was arrested on the complaint of Gloria Lewis. He was continued free in $100 bail and Judge Richter scheduled sentencing for next Saturday.

In a traffic case, Lynn M. Tynan, 17, of 16 Birchwood Drive, Saugerties, paid a $10 fine on a plea of guilty to a speeding charge. Judge Richter suspended imposition of $5 fine on a plea of guilty to a charge of passing a red traffic light.

This revenue was to offset losses when the New York City sales tax was reduced from four to three per cent after the two per cent statewide sales tax took effect Aug. 1.

supporting a three year program to place a competent representative wherever racial troubles flare. We are particularly pleased that this first appointment is of an emuncipal nature."

During his Roxbury assignment, the Rev. Mr. Johnson will assist the new Minister of Social Responsibility of the Benevolent Fraternity of Unitarian Churches, the Rev. Donald A. Thompson, who was shot in the back for his civil rights activities in Jackson, Miss.

The Universalist Unitarian Freedom Fund, which is supporting the Rev. Mr. Johnson's work, receives its income solely from UU churches, fellowships and individuals.

From Roxbury, the Rev. Mr. Johnson will be sent to other areas of the country as emergency situations arise in race relations.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson was born in New York City. He was graduated from Howard University of Drew University. He served five years as an Air Force officer. The Rev. Mr. Johnson became an ordained elder in the New York Conference of the Methodist Church in 1959.

He has been vice president of the Yonkers Council of Churches and chairman of the Yonkers Tenants Association and the Clergyman's Committee of the Yonkers Fair Housing Committee.

The Rev. Mr. Brown is married to the former Bertha Brown, a Fulbright scholar.

May Scrap Atom

the beginning of the end for the 200-BEV, $348-million machine," he said. "When you start talking about alternatives it adds up to that."

The source said the AEC has scheduled a late January meeting to get the views of some of the nation's leading high-energy physicists.

He described the alternatives as:

—A suggestion by Prof. S. Devons, chairman of Columbia University's Department of Physics, that the AEC's existing 33-billion electron volt atom smashers at Brookhaven National Laboratory, Long Island, N.Y., be sealed up to the 120-150 BEV range. This could cost about $150 million.

—A suggestion from the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory of the University of California that the existing 200 BEV plan be scaled down to a lower intensity. This would cost about $260 million.

A suggestion by Prof. R. R. Wilson of Cornell that a $150-million machine of lower intensity be built with provisions to increase its intensity over a period of years.

Selection of either of the latter two proposals still would require the AEC to choose a site.

When Rockefeller announced his proposals, he said the money also would help preserve the city's 15 cent transit fare.

GOP sources said Friday that Republican legislators asked why Upstate taxpayers should subsidize a 15 cent fare in New York, when their own constituents were paying 20 and 25 cent fares.

Another Republican assemblyman asserted that the fare was unrealistic and that it was not the business of the Legislature to preserve it.

$49-Million in Aid

Travia's complaints centered on Rockefeller's offer of $49 million in school aid. He said the governor had repeatedly refused the payment in the past when the city had a Democratic mayor, Republican John V. Lindsay took office Jan. 1.

Travia described as a "sham" the $20 million pledge from the sale of stocks. He said that amount had been promised last July 1 and would have been paid in any event.

This revenue was to offset losses when the New York City sales tax was reduced from four to three per cent after the two per cent statewide sales tax took effect Aug. 1.

Examine Yonkers Man; Fired Rifle Near White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 35-year-old Yonkers, N.Y., man whose wife says he has a history of mental hospitalization was undergoing examination today after he discharged a rifle into the air near the White House.

Raul R. Torres told police after he was arrested Friday that he fired the weapon to "attract attention." When seized, he was carrying a sign saying he disliked "illegal mental state hospitals," "illegal court martials" and "illegal prison terms."

Carrying Letter

Police said he was carrying a letter indicating he had appealed to President Johnson for a review of his discharge from the service. Police in Yonkers said they had been told a Secret Service warrant also had been issued against Torres accusing him of sending threatening letters to the President.

The incident took place after Torres was sighted by a Washington policeman carrying a rifle at Pennsylvania Avenue and 15th Street — about one block from the White House at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

"Hey, what are you doing with that gun?" the officer asked. Police said Torres then stepped into an alley, slipped some cartridges into the rifle, and fired it.

Seized by Three

After a scuffle, he was seized by three policemen, charged with possession of a prohibited weapon and sent to St. Elizabeth's Hospital for examination.

Torres' wife and 8-year-old daughter were with him when the incident took place. They planned to return to Yonkers.

Mrs. Torres told police she helped her husband draw his protest sign. She said they also have a 14-year-old son.

Says Army Coup

graphic communications between Britain and Lagos were cut today, leading to rumors in London that there might be political trouble in Nigeria.

There was no confirmation of the reports.

A spokesman for the cable and wireless company said: "We lost all contact with Nigeria about two o'clock this morning (London time) and have been unable to regain it."

Lines Closed

British government telephone officials said they have been trying all morning to get through to Lagos without success.

Nigerian officials in London were dispersed for the weekend. A spokesman at Nigeria House would only say there had been communication difficulties for several days past. There was no contact at all today, he said.

Nigeria is Africa's most populous nation. Every sixth African is a Nigerian. The nation's more than 55 million inhabitants live in a vast and a varied land tucked under the "bulge" of West Africa.

Granted independence by Britain in 1960, Nigeria has been considered one of Africa's most stable and democratic countries despite tribal differences which have threatened to split it into two or three separate nations.

Has 12 Languages

Nigeria has 12 official languages and more than 300 dialects. It is the size of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi combined. Lagos, the capital, is a federal district located in the western region. The Moslem north is the most heavily-populated area and landlocked. Eastern Nigeria has oil and western Nigeria is the most heavily industrialized. Nigeria was once the funnel through which an estimated 100,000 slaves a year were shipped to the New World.

IBM Reports Earnings

ARMONK, N. Y. — International Business Machines Corporation has announced its preliminary results for the year 1965. Thomas J. Watson Jr., chairman of the board, reported that IBM worldwide consolidated net earnings after taxes for the year ended Dec. 31, 1965, amounted to $476,902,490 or $13.54 a share on the 35,224,914 shares outstanding Dec. 31, 1965. This compares with net earnings after taxes for the year 1964 of $431,159,766, equal to $12.30 a share on the 35,048,259 shares outstanding Dec. 31, 1964. Net earnings before taxes amounted to $959,902,490 compared with $897,159,766 in the year 1964. Consolidated gross income for the year 1965 amounted to $3,572,824,719 compared with $3,239,359,581 in the year 1964.

The resignation of Dr. William A. Wecker, director of the County Mental Health Board, was confirmed this morning. Members of the Board met Friday afternoon, and it had been reported that Wecker's resignation would be requested at that time. His replacement has not been announced as yet, although there were reports that Emeline P. Hayward would be named acting director.

The funeral of Sister Audrey OSA was held at the Church of the Holy Cross, Pine Grove Avenue, Kingston, on Friday at 11 a. m. where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Paul Hartzell. The Rev. Father Paul Wessinger, SSJE, and the Rev. Father David Bronson were seated in the chancel. During the Mass, hymns were sung by the choir of the Church of the Holy Cross, accompanied by Loto Springstead, organist. On Thursday evening many friends called at the chapel of the Convent of St. Anne where, at 7:30 p. m., Father Wessinger offered prayers for the dead. The burial was at Ascension Cemetery, West Park, where Father Wessinger gave the final blessing and absolution.

Sarah Mauro

Mrs. Sarah Mauro of Glasco died Friday. She was the wife of the late Limbrocco Mauro, and had been a resident of Glasco for 56 years. Surviving are a son, Frank Mauro of Glasco; two daughters, Mrs. Joseph (Fanny) Vigna of Glasco, and Mrs. Edwin (Theresa) Bock of Kingston; a sister, Mrs. Vincenza Cashara of Glasco; four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held from M. A. Galletta Funeral Home, 25 Ulster Avenue, Saugerties, on Monday at 9:15 a. m.; thence to St. Joseph's Church, Glasco, at 10 a. m. where a requiem of high Mass will be offered for the repose of her soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Barclay Heights. Friends may call at the funeral home on both Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 10 p. m.

Best-Dressed List Is Published; New Names Are Added

NEW YORK (AP) — Does an elegant sense of fashion run in families?

Mrs. Carter Burden at 22 tops the 1965 list of the best-dressed women in the world, announced Thursday. She is the wife of a Columbia University law student from a socially prominent family, but more importantly, from a fashion viewpoint, she is the daughter of Mrs. William Paley, a member of the Fashion Hall of Fame.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, who usually heads the best-dressed, was elevated to the Fashion Hall of Fame.

The former First Lady's younger sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, often on the list, lost out. Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, mother of the late President Kennedy, repeated from last year.

The Ford sisters — Anne and Charlotte — who recently became Mrs. Giancarlo Uzieli and Mrs. Stavros Niarchos, again were cited as one entry. "Their taste is identical, representing the best of the young international way of dressing," a list committee noted. Their mother, the former Mrs. Henry Ford II, is in the Fashion Hall of Fame.

Among the royal members on the list is Mrs. Anne Ogilvy, the Princess Alexandra of Kent, daughter of the Duchess of Kent, also in the Fashion Hall of Fame.

Then there are the Vanderbilts, Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt of New York placed second, and the former Gloria Vanderbilt, now wife of New York television director Wyatt Cooper, came in third.

The best-dressed list — compiled by a fashion committee from perhaps 2,500 votes cast by style experts around the world — goes in this order: Mrs. Burden; Mrs. Vanderbilt; Mrs. Cooper; the Ford sisters; Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy; Mrs. King Douglas, wife of the actor; Mrs. Ogilvy; actress Barbara Streisand; Mrs. Charles Engelhard, wife of the mining magnate; Mrs. William McCormick Blair, wife of the American ambassador to the Philippines; Princess Luciana Pignatelli of Rome; and Princess Paola, wife of the Belgian crown prince.

To make way for newcomers, perennials on the list are frequently named to the Fashion Hall of Fame. Besides Mrs. Kennedy, five other list regulars were elevated for 1965: Mrs. Charles Wrightman of New York and Palm Beach, Fla.; Queen Sirikit of Thailand; Dame Margot Fonteyn, British ballet star; actress Dina Merrill, and Mrs. Gilbert Miller, wife of the theatrical producer.

Democratic Women Meeting on Tuesday

A regular meeting of the Ulster County Democratic Women's Club will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 18 at 8 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

REFUSING A DATE DIPLOMATICALLY

If a girl has to refuse a date because she is really busy and would like the young man to call her another time, she should refuse in such a way that he will be encouraged to try again. This requires diplomacy and charm. Keeping her apology brief, general, and sincere—"I'm so sorry. I've already made other plans"—is better than going into detail about her aunt who has come to town. She can encourage him to call again by suggesting another night ("I'm very sorry I can't make it Friday. I wish you'd call again"), or she can ask for a raincheck.

Refusing because she does not care enough for the young man's company to want to spend a whole evening with him is also a problem in diplomacy. She should not be rudely blunt; neither should she be coy enough to encourage him to try again. "I'm so sorry, but I've already made plans for Saturday" is sufficient. Remember that, having refused a date because you simply do not wish to go with that person, you may never appear at the same party, dance, or any other function with someone else who asked you later.

The man who is refused may try again, if he thinks the refusal was of the first type. However, if he receives three refusals in a row, he may assume she's not interested, and forget her and her telephone number.

The Bride's Veil

Q: When the bride wears a veil over her face, who lifts it back at the conclusion of the ceremony? I have been told that the bridegroom does this just before kissing her. Will you please tell me if this is correct?

A: The face veil is lifted back by the maid of honor when she gives the bride back her bouquet.

Home Extension Service News

General directions for removing spots and stains from carpets are contained in the following article by Phyllis W. Barlow, extension home economist:

Blot up liquids and other spills quickly and completely with clean absorbent material. The longer a spill sets, the harder it is to remove.

Before using any cleaner, be certain it is right for the stain and safe for your carpet.

When using any cleaner, start at the outer edge and work toward the center of the stained area.

Use liquids sparingly with clean cloths or sponges and blot up excess moisture as you go along.

Never rub or scrub. Violent action is neither necessary nor desirable for good results.

Brush the pile up to dry, cover with a clean, white cloth or towel and dry the area as quickly as possible. The use of a fan is recommended.

When dry, brush the pile and vacuum the area thoroughly.

Select and use dry cleaning fluid with special care. Read and follow directions on the container. Any dry cleaning solvent should be used in a well ventilated area. Use solvents sparingly to avoid damaging latex backing on rugs.

Non-Greasy Spots — Alcoholic beverages, black coffee and tea, fruit, fruit juices, soft drinks, syrup, urine, washable ink.

Cleaning Solution — Detergent-vinegar solution (1 teaspoon light duty detergent to one quart warm water. Add 1 teaspoon white vinegar).

Method — Blot up liquids or scrape off semi-solids. Absorb cleaning solution into a sponge or unstarched white cloth and squeeze gently on the spot. Blot up moisture with damp cloth or sponge. Then, dampen cloth or sponge in clean, lukewarm water, squeeze on the area and absorb. Repeat several times. Finish by blotting up remaining moisture with a pad of dry cloth or paper towels applied to the spot and weighted in place. Dry carpeting quickly.

Greasy Spot — Butter, cooking oil, hand cream, grease, machine oil, some ballpoint inks.

Cleaning Solution — Dry-cleaning fluid.

Method — Scrape off excess substance. Blot on drycleaning fluid with unstarched white cloth. Dry the carpet. Apply solvent again if necessary. Dry the carpet and gently brush pile.

Combination Spots — Blood, chocolate, coffee, tea with cream, egg, gravy, ice cream, milk, salad dressing.

Cleaning Solution — Detergent-vinegar followed by dry-cleaning fluid.

Method — Remove excess material, absorbing liquids and scraping semi-solids. Absorb detergent-vinegar solution into a sponge or unstarched white cloth and squeeze gently on the spot. Blot up moisture with damp cloth or sponge. Finally, dampen cloth or sponge in clean, lukewarm water, squeeze on the area and absorb. Repeat several times. Blot up remaining moisture with a pad of dry cloth or paper towels applied to the spot and weighted in place. Dry the carpeting quickly. Blot on drycleaning fluid. Dry the carpet and gently brush pile.

Girl Scout News
Brownies Make Flowers

Brownie Troop 17 sponsored by the Ulster Hose Company had an interesting meeting Tuesday, when Mrs. Kay Finn, a member of the Coach House Players attended and taught the Brownies how to make artificial flowers. Mrs. Finn has promised to return and give them further instructions. Mrs. J. D. Janotti is the leader of Troop 17.

Katrines Juniors Active

Junior Troop 35, of Lake Katrine has started the New Year with a variety of activities slated. This week the troop held its second achievement night. Several interesting skits, collections and exhibits were shown. The following girls received achievement badges: Loreen La Rocca, cook, housekeeper, dabbler and Sign of the Star; Pat Ljutic, collector; Kathy Tatravski, hospitality; Kathi Castle, My Home; Janet More, hospitality.

Jan. 12, Troop 35 was guest of Brownie Troop 12 of Ruby. The meeting was planned around a visit by Doctors Ambulance service which demonstrated to the girls the ambulance service and taught them some important facts about First Aid.

Jan. 18, Troop 35 will visit a neon glass shop at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ljutic. Ljutic is a craftsman in the art of glass blowing and has done much of the neon sign work in the area.

To help the girls toward earning their Active Citizen Badge and My Community Badge arrangements have been made to visit the United States Post Office in Kingston and also to witness the printing of The Kingston Daily Freeman as it comes off the press.

Mrs. H. P. Hoffman is the leader of Junior Troop 35, a member of the Kingston Uptown Neighborhood of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., a participating agency of the Ulster County Community Chest.

St. Mary's Troop Notes

St. Mary's three troops entertained their parents and friends at their annual holiday party. Gifts were distributed to more than 150 children attending. The program consisted of group singing, piano selections and a Tableau presented by the Brownies.

Mrs. Frank Graney, leader, thanked the many parents present for their splendid cooperation during the Christmas Bazaar, which was the most successful to date and assures the girls of the completion of their Five Year American Heritage program.

Following the entertainment,

Social Agencies Consider
Area Homemaker Service

Plans for a homemaker service and explanation of Medicare highlighted the Jan. 11 meeting of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies at the YMCA.

Louis H. Schafer, president, explained that one of the aims of the council for 1966 is establishment of a homemaker service in the county. The service would enable husbands to work when the wife is ill at home or a hospital patient, knowing a capable person was taking care of the children. It would provide help for young mothers, the sick and elderly. The service has been used in Orange County for several years with good results.

A representative of the local group will attend a state meeting on homemaker service in New York City Jan. 27. Schafer will attend meetings with the County Community Action Group under the direction of Clifford A. Henze to obtain further information on setting up the homemaker service for the county.

Social Security Speaker

George Habernig, district manager of the local Social Security office was guest speaker. He outlined the many changes which have taken place in 1965 including the increase in payments from $135 to $168 per month. Widows of retired persons may now collect their pension at age 60 and retired persons will be able to earn $1500 per year, he said.

He also gave an explanation of Medicare health insurance for the aged. One big factor facing the local office is getting the information to the people. Habernig said. There are to date approximately 1500 persons who became 65 years of age before Jan. 1 and must be reached before March 1.

Office Open Saturday

Hospital insurance is free to persons over 65. Medicare may be had at a cost of $3 per month starting July 1. He urged people to come to the Social Security office to sign up for the protection offered. The local office will be open Saturday morning for the extra convenience of the public. Members of families should make sure elderly members are brought to the local office before March 1.

refreshments were served by the committee; the Mmes. Joseph Kain, Charles Kinkade, Thomas Stenson, Sam Romano, William Guldry, Henry Bailey and Al Wolf.

The special choral group entertained the patients at the Infirmary. The following girls participated: Barbara Romano, Phyllis Romano, Toni Secreto, Jo-Ann Secreto, Peggy Graney, Eva Castle and Sharon Longo. The girls were accompanied by Mrs. Kinkade, Mrs. Stenson and Mrs. Frank Graney.

Habernig said that the law provides specific periods of time called enrollment periods during which persons may sign up for medical insurance benefits. The first period began Sept. 1, 1965 and ends March 1, 1966. People who are entitled to Social Security, Railroad Pension or civil service benefits will receive their applications by mail. A person will have protection as soon as they reach the age of 65 if they apply during the three month period just before they become 65. The medical insurance will not take effect until July 1, 1966. Payments for Medicare can be made on a volunteer basis if a person is not receiving social security checks, if checks are received it will be deducted from this.

Any person wishing further information may contact the local office as soon as possible. A question and answer period followed with many questions asked by the members present.

A luncheon was served prior to the meeting. Miss Frances Maxwell and Mrs. Donald Snell were in charge of arrangements.

Donald Segar, program chairman announced that the next meeting will be held Feb. 8. The program will be Citizens Survey Recommendations.

Child Health Clinic

A clinic for immunizations against polio, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox will be conducted by the Ulster County Health Department at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway on Friday, Jan. 21 from 10:30-11:15 a.m.

Immunizations for whooping cough, diphtheria, and tetanus should be started at three months of age; smallpox vaccination should be given sometime during the first year of life; and polio immunizations should be started from three to six months of age. These clinics serve those who are referred by their physician or those who are otherwise unable to secure these immunizations.

Really a Rodent

The guinea pig is not a real pig but actually a rodent of South America. Originally brought to Europe by Dutch traders, some of whom found it in Guiana, it soon became known by its present common name.

Dear Abby . . .

It Ain't Right, Lady!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem in decorum. My husband refuses to keep his pants on in the house. As soon as he gets home from work he takes them off, but leaves his shirt and tie and shorts on. He stays that way all evening, even through dinner. He won't even put on his bathrobe if I get it. He says our apartment is too hot, so I bought him a pair of lightweight Bermuda shorts, but he refused to wear them. I hate to nag, but with a small daughter in the house a man should keep himself dressed decently. Besides, our windows look right into those of a large motel and I'm afraid one of these days some prude will get my husband arrested for indecent exposure. Abby, I realize a man has a right to be comfortable. In his own home, but mine has gone too far. How can I get him to keep his pants on?

BARBARA

DEAR BARBARA: If your man doesn't want to wear pants in your family — YOU wear 'em. Tell him that heat story is silly. He could have worn the Bermuda shorts. And when a man is warm he removes his tie and shirt, NOT his pants. Your husband could be a candidate for a psychiatrist's couch. But don't worry about his getting arrested for "indecent exposure" while going pantsless in his own home. There's a law against window peeping.

DEAR ABBY: We are a young, average couple, who have a nice little house in the city. My wife was a country girl, and she thinks it is necessary for us to walk our guests to their cars after we have entertained them in our home at a party. I don't think this is necessary at all, as it usually leads to lingering farewells, and even prolonged conversations while we stand outside in all kinds of weather. My wife still insists that it is "inhabitable" to say goodnight to your guests at your door and then close the door after them. Who is right?

City's Oldest Independent Fuel Oil Dealer

In 1908, when the automobile was still considered something of a plaything, and homes were being heated by coal or wood, a young man purchased a drum of gasoline, a chamois and a funnel to begin a business that has become one of the area's largest petroleum distributors. Austin R. Newcombe & Co., Inc., Kingston's oldest independent fuel oil dealer, has been credited with many "firsts"—first "drive-in" gasoline station between New Jersey state line and Albany opened in Kingston in 1921; first big ocean-going tanker ever to dock at Kingston came to the Newcombe dock in 1928; first ticket printing meter in this area installed on fuel oil delivery trucks in 1936; first degree-day system for automatic scheduling of oil deliveries instituted in 1940; first to install two-way radio in its trucks, 1959. The firm employs 25 persons and operates a fleet of 22 delivery and service trucks. It offers 24-hour emergency service; service contracts, systematic payment plans.

After the death of the founder in 1937, the business was carried on by Mrs. Newcombe, who today retains the presidency of Austin R. Newcombe & Co., Inc. A son, Amos R. Newcombe, is vice president. Another son, Lloyd A. Newcombe, this month assumed office as state senator for this senatorial district.

You Pick The Prize You Want To Win
In The Red Rose Tea Pick-A-Prize Sweepstakes

What would you like to win most? A color TV, a Mustang, a stereo tape recorder, any major kitchen appliance, a slide or movie projector, sporting equipment, a sport cycle, power tools, a mink boa—you name it Red Rose tea has it in their new Pick-A-Prize Sweepstakes.

And more important! Your chances of winning the prize of your choice are better than ever because you pick the prize you want to win in this novel contest. ## What Is Radio Free Europe?

Radio Free Europe is a private, non-profit American organization broadcasting to the 82 million people of Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Bulgaria. With headquarters in Munich, RFE has offices and technical installations in 10 European countries and the United States. RFE has 31 transmitters in Germany and Portugal with more than two million watts of power. It is the strongest link between East Europe and the free world—and truth.

The purpose of Radio Free Europe is to help people under Communist domination work toward individual liberty and national independence. RFE serves as a free press for captive people and as the voice of opposition to the Communist regimes, broadcasting as the homeland radio stations would in free countries. RFE breaks the communications monopoly the Communists have tried to impose on East Europe.

Surveys made during the past seven years by independent opinion research institutes in West Europe with thousands of East Europeans show that an estimated twenty million people listen to RFE regularly, about half the adult population. There are 16.1 million radio sets in RFE's broadcast area.

Born In A Barn . . .

The Parsons organization was born in a barn at Central Bridge, N.Y. in 1918. A Mr. A. L. Parsons purchased a half interest in a firm then known as Enders-Calliers. Three years later he became the sole owner with eight employees.

Mr. Charles Parsons, the present chairman of the board, joined his father in 1929. At that time the name of the company was changed to A. L. Parsons & Son. Since that date the organization has grown to include six Ford agencies, and two Lincoln-Mercury; they are: Parsons of Glens Falls, Inc., Glens Falls, N.Y.; Parsons Ford, Inc., Binghamton, N.Y.; Parsons Fulton County Mtrs., Gloversville, N.Y.; Quinn Parsons, Inc., Amsterdam, N.Y.; Murphy Parsons, Inc., Glens Falls, N.Y.; Parsons Inc., of Amsterdam, Amsterdam, N.Y.; A. L. Parsons & Son, Central Bridge, N.Y.; and Parsons of Kingston, Inc., Kingston, N.Y.

The present organization is now known as Par Gar, Inc. and its present president is Mr. Lewis Parsons, who is the son of Mr. Charles Parsons.

Parsons of Kingston started in 1959, and was located at 300 B'way. On March 11, 1965, we broke ground for our new and modern facility located on Route 28 between 209 and the Thruway. Mr. L. M. Griggs joined the organization on March 11 as the president with the intention of becoming owner.

Our new facility includes all modern equipment including diagnostic front-end machines, and the most modern fender and body shop. The advertising for Parsons of Kingston is handled by Freeman adman, John Davis, pictured.

Questions and Answers About Advertising

Q—Recently, I asked a visitor from abroad what were his impressions of America. "I see a busy, active people," he replied. "Busy not merely with earning a living, but with enjoying living." Then he added: "Your huge volume of advertising has played a tremendous part in bringing all this about." I'm not quite sure how he arrived at this conclusion. Can you enlighten me?

A—Although your visitor may have given advertising too much credit, he was right in saying that it has been a major force in bringing the American standard of living to such heights—but advertising hasn't been the only force.

I shall attempt to give a brief, simple explanation of a complex subject. American creative genius brings us a tremendous flow of goods. This creates a need for masses of people anxious, willing, and able to buy and consume these goods. Only a society with a constantly rising standard of living can provide masses of customers. They have to be sought, taught, and often persuaded to move higher in the scale of living. This is advertising's job.

Advertising not only gives people news about new products, but provides the urge for people to own and enjoy these products. The wider and deeper the penetration of our products into the life of America, the greater the need for more production. This means more jobs. More jobs mean more people able to enjoy what we make. More people buying mean still more production. And so on and on. Our economy is a highly complicated machine. Advertising is one spark plug that helps power this machine. That's why it is so important.

ANY QUESTIONS OR COMMENTS REGARDING ADVERTISING? IF SO PLEASE SEND THEM TO THE KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN, Attention Warren W. Simmons, Advertising Director, Freeman Square, Kingston, New York.

Author's Widow Asks to Enjoin Hemingway Book

NEW YORK (AP) — Mary Hemingway, widow of author Ernest Hemingway, asked the State Supreme Court Friday to enjoin the publication of distribution of a book titled "Papa Hemingway," by A.E. Hotchner.

The suit also names Random House Inc., which, according to Mrs. Hemingway, plans to put the book on sale March 7.

Mrs. Hemingway said that the book consists mainly of words and literary matter conceived, composed and written by her husband and set forth in letters, tape recordings and writings.

She said that before Hemingway's death Hotchner was engaged in adapting the author's literary works for television and motion pictures and "stood in a confidential and fiduciary relationship" with the author.

Mrs. Hemingway said that since her husband's death in 1961 the estate has received royalties of more than $200,000 a year. She claimed the Hotchner book would "unfairly compete with other literary matter conceived, created and written by Ernest Hemingway."

Mrs. Hemingway also contended that Hotchner's book contained statements and conversations ascribed to her and thus violated her right of privacy under the state civil rights law.

Hearing was set for Jan. 21.

Dirt to Fly

RICHLAND, Wash. (AP) — A pinch of dirt from Richland will be placed in a Thor rocket to be fired into orbit around the earth from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

The plan was announced Thursday by C.J. Dorrenbacher, Douglas Aircraft Co. vice president, at groundbreaking for the $1.7-million Donald W. Douglas Laboratories.

The first shovel load of dirt, from which the pinch will be taken, was placed in a metal canister. Dorrenbacher said the mission of the rocket which will carry the dirt is secret.

Douglas is a contractor for operation of reactors at the Hanford atomic works here.

Complicated Play vs. Easy Way

By JACOB & SON
1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is a really controversial hand from the International team trials. Every West player opened with one club. North invariably overcalled with one heart. South tried one spade. West rebid two clubs. North raised to two spades and whether or not East bid three diamonds, South would close the bidding at four spades.

NORTH 15
♥ K 10 7
♦ A Q 8 7 5
♣ 7 3
♠ Q J 5
WEST (D) EAST
♥ A 8	♥ 9
♦ K 10 6 4	♦ J 9 2
♣ Q	♣ K J 8 6 4 2
♠ A K 10 8 6 3	♠ J 7 2
SOUTH
♥ Q J 6 5 4 3 2
♦ 3
♣ A 10 5
♠ 9 4
Both vulnerable
West North East South
1 ♠ 1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠
2 ♠ 2 ♣ Pass 4 ♠
Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead—♠ K.

West always started the defense with three rounds of clubs. East ruffed the third club, where-upon South would overruff and take stock of the situation.

He would have to lose the ace of spades in any event and would need to be able to discard two diamonds on dummy's hearts.

The simple play would be to take a heart finesse. This play would succeed if West had started with either three hearts or four hearts to the king.

The complicated play would be to try to ruff out the king of hearts by playing the ace of hearts. This play would succeed if either opponent had started with three hearts to the king. Mathematically the plays are equal. In practice the simple play worked. The complicated play failed when it turned out that West had those four hearts headed by the king.

To show how even the play was, six pairs of the nine did reach four spades and three made the hand by the simple play while three went down with the complicated play.

The other three stopped at three spades and all made exactly three. There was a good reason for this. Any declarer who lost the heart finesse would go down at three. The play of the heart ace first would ensure the part-score contract.

NYS Personal Income Tax — Assignment outside of the State does not change the domicile of a New York State serviceman, so he must file his return and pay any tax due in the same manner as any resident individual, unless he satisfies all three of the following conditions: (1) he had no permanent place of abode in New York State during the taxable year (2) he did maintain a permanent place of abode outside of New York State during the entire taxable year; (3) he did not spend more than 30 days in New York State during the taxable year. In connection with the second condition mentioned, a serviceman who lives on a military installation or in assigned or rented government quarters is not considered as maintaining a permanent place of abode. Subject to this, it is generally recognized that a serviceman does maintain a permanent place of abode if he leases, rents or buys a dwelling place near his station of duty and occupies it with his family, when his duty assignment is of an indefinite (rather than temporary or limited) assignment.

Juliet Sheds No Tears as Show Gets Pink Slip

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This is the sorrowful season when cancellation notices begin to fall on television series.

Among the doomed is "Mona McCluskey." Its star, Juliet Prowse, returned from a 26,000-mile trip home for Christmas — to South Africa — to learn that NBC will pull the plug on the series after 26 segments.

No Tantrums
Did she fret or toss a tantrum? Not in the least.

"Things generally happen for the best," she philosophizes. "I never worry about what happens in my career, because I can always do something else."

This has been going on since she started dancing professionally in Johannesburg at 14. She progressed to night clubs in Europe, where she was discovered by Fred Astaire's longtime choreographer, Hermes Pan. He brought her to America for "Can-Can," which was notable principally for Nikita S. Khrushchev's derogatory comments.

Juliet continued at 20th Century-Fox, where her movies were "mostly pretty bad." After that, she mined the gold to be found in night clubs and summer theaters, then was tapped for "Mona McCluskey."

Critics Critical
The plot had Juliet, a $5,000-a-week movie star, married to a $500-a-month Air Force Sgt. Denny Miller, and it didn't strike the fancy of the critics.

"It took five or six weeks for us to shake down the show," explained Juliet. "We added Robert Strauss and Elena Verdugo as second bananas, and that was a good move. We needed someone to play the comedy off of."

"The show was coming along, but we never had a chance in the ratings. We were up against 'Peyton Place' on ABC, but our biggest competition was the CBS Thursday night movies. They threw some great pictures at us, in color, and it's awfully hard to compete."

Juliet will be finishing the 26-show season shortly and then it's back to the night club and theater circuit. Her next aim is a Broadway show.

Scores Majorette Wiggles

DOVER, Del. (AP) — The Governor's Committee on Protocol has complained about high school drum majorettes and cheerleaders wiggling during the playing of the National Anthem.

The committee was created by the General Assembly to study all aspects of protocol in Delaware and suggest ways to improve it.

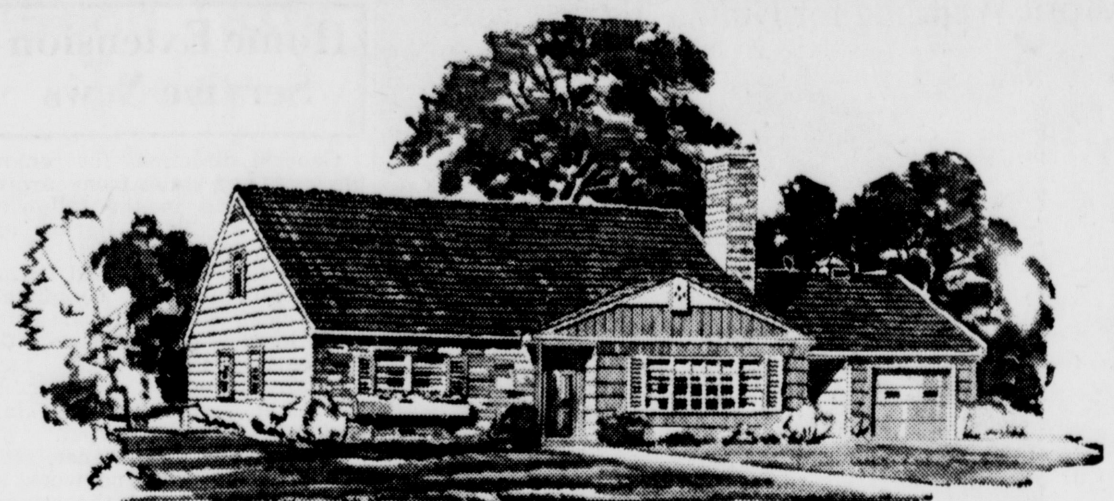

The committee suggested Thursday to school officials "that drum majorettes and cheerleaders are perhaps not aware of the respect due to the playing of the National Anthem."

It said it found cheerleaders doing cartwheels to "the rocket's red glare," and majorettes keeping time to "the bombs burst in air."

Objects to Signs
ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Some roadside signs are giving tourists the wrong idea about New Mexico, says one of the state's four candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor.

"Such signs as 'Come see the rattlesnakes' and 'Get your water bottle,' you are entering the desert," put the state in a bad light in the minds of tourists," Roy S. Walker, a Clovis businessman, said in a speech. He urged elimination of such signs.

To Attend Dedication

ASSOCIATED ARCHITECTS

Modern Colonial Home At Reasonable Cost

By JACK McLENEY

If you are interested in a change from your present home — how about one that is modern and roomy, yet occupies only 26½ by 38 feet?

Associated Architects have such a house for you today, "The Drake," and its plan is being made available at very reasonable cost.

"The Drake" is a one-and-a-half-story modern Colonial, with two bedrooms upstairs and two downstairs. The plan includes a breezeway and a big one-car garage.

rage, which you may build now or later, as you prefer. Either way, this is one of the most attractive homes offered by Associated Architects.

Those bedrooms are quite roomy, and come with large closets. Additional linen closets are placed for greatest convenience to housekeeping on both floors. The two baths, one on each floor, are fully equipped. The plans call for a most useful counter top into which the wash basin is custom fitted. Incidentally, you save a substantial part of the cost of plumbing installation because the bathrooms are directly over one another, avoiding long runs of pipe.

There is a space for both formal and informal dining in this home. A full-size dining room beautifully lighted with a double window will enable your family to be host to many guests; by themselves the family will enjoy having their meals in a room set apart for that exclusive purpose.

But for a snack or a quick meal, there is plenty of space for that room where the food is prepared—the kitchen. And it will prove very easy to cook in this kitchen, because it is arranged to keep unnecessary traffic out and save the home-maker many, many steps every day. The "U"-shaped counter, together with the appliances and cabinet take the credit for these advantages.

Note in the accompanying floor plan how there is sheltered access between the garage and the house proper. A door at the rear of the garage leads through the breezeway directly to the kitchen.

And finally—the living room, 14 by 17½ feet, is designed to give you comfort and joy. A big fireplace, picture window, wall space for large pieces of furniture—these help to explain why this is a completely livable room.

To obtain plans for this splendid home, use the coupon attached. You will want to know that the living area in the "Drake" is 1,490 square feet, or 1,020 square feet in the first floor and 470 square feet in the second. Breezeway and garage add another 400 square feet.

Like all Associated Architects' homes, this one conforms with the rigid property and construction requirements of the Federal Housing Administration (FHA), chief government mortgage guarantee agency. Electrical wiring that is called for follows the fire safety provisions of the National Electrical Code.

YOUR WOODSTOCK BANK

— WITHIN MINUTES OF YOUR HOME

May we take this opportunity to thank you for your good will and loyalty during the past year.

In 1965 we reached an all time high in deposits — far in excess of our planned objectives.

In 1965 we opened the greatest number of checking accounts and savings accounts in our recent banking history.

In 1965 we made the greatest number of loans to individuals and to industry and business enterprises, with the constant aim to make this bank a community institution.

In 1965 we celebrated our 153rd Anniversary (the Woodstock bank was opened 13 years ago). Age is an asset only if service to customers meets growing financial needs. This standard of accomplishment is always before us. The loyal support of the people who bank with us has made possible our growth and progress.

We invite you to come in to see us. Whenever you visit our bank you can always expect to find a spirit of friendly cooperation.

Ulster Wins 10th Straight; Newburgh Stops Kingston, 63-53

Marlboro, Onteora on Top, UCAL Race Now in Triple Tie

Murphy Leads Jayvees To Win Over Newburgh

Andy Murphy netted 16 of his 20 points in the third and fourth periods and the Kingston High Jayvees kept their record spotless with a 48-39 squeaker last night at the Newburgh Free Academy gym.

Coach Mike Rienzo's club responded to its greatest pressure of the year with a solid second half, after being held to a 14-14 deadlock at intermission.

Murphy showed the way with his scoring and all-around floor play. Bruce Gilligan chipped in with 12 markers to aid in the offense.

The local Jayvees are now 7-0. Box score:

UCCC Faculty Gets 63-46 Win

Coach Mike Perry rimmed 22 points and the Ulster Community College faculty tripped the Circle "K" (Kiwanis) team, 63-46, last night at the Municipal Auditorium.

The winners held a 40-25 lead at halftime and remained ahead the rest of the way. Perry hit for 22 markers to pace the attack.

NFA Wrestlers Beat Kingston

Ed Schirick and Russ Wilbur were the only winners last night at the Kate Walton Field House as the Kingston High wrestling team lost to Newburgh, 36-6, in a DUSO dual match. The visitors had only two pins but they piled up their points by decisioning the locals in the other matches.

Coach Bill Hurley's improved grapplers are home against Saugerties on Tuesday at 4 o'clock.

Results:

Monticello Raps Middies, 64-52

Monticello remained in the DUSO flag chase with a 64-52 triumph over visiting Middletown last night.

Larry Armstead sparked the home side with a 20-point show. Ed Strong hit for 17, Bill Bradley 13 and Fred Strong 10. Mike Illoire had 17 markers for the improved Middies.

The Panthers have lost only to Kingston in circuit play. They entertain Newburgh in a crucial contest on Tuesday night.

Bonnies Say Farewell To Olean Bandbox

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP)—St. Bonaventure will play its last basketball game tonight in its so-called band-box, the Olean Armory, in which the quintet has won 138 of 145 games.

The last rival in what has been described as a 2 by 4 court will be Niagara, one of only five teams able to defeat the Bonnies there.

Besides Niagara, which meted out four defeats, Assumption, Youngstown, Tennessee State and Brockport State have been victorious against the Bonnies in the tiny brick structure since the 1946-47 season.

St. Bonaventure will move to a new field house, now under construction, for all but a few of its home games next season. Some of the home matches will be played in the Buffalo Memorial Auditorium, as part of a double header with Canisius.

Timely Truth Gets Win at Roosevelt

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Timely Truth displayed a powerful closing kick that carried her to a half length victory over Maynard Hal in the $3,000 Conditioned Pace at Roosevelt Raceway Friday night.

The 5-year-old mare, under a strong drive by Eddie Cobb, posted her first victory of the season for owners McKinley Kirk and Robert Harry Valley of Washington Court House, Ohio.

Timely Truth paced the mile in 2:07 1-5. He paid $6.20, $4.20 and $3.20 as the second choice with the crowd of 22,718. Maynard Hal returned $9.40 and $5.40. Red Kid paid $5.40.

Senators Trip Adirondack Club, 99-80

George Druttman's defensive work, the hot shooting of Paul Buytkins and a brilliant performance by reserve Tony Toney led the unbeaten Ulster Community College quintet to its 10th straight verdict, 99-80, last night at the Municipal Auditorium.

Druttman scored 19 points on offense but his biggest contribution was in holding Phil Dwyer, the leading scorer in the Capital District area, to nine points. In fact, the former Wallkill star did such an outstanding job on Dwyer, who came into the game averaging 26 markers a start, that he collapsed after the contest.

Buytkins hit for 31 points, including 13 field goals to lead the flying Senators in scoring. Toney came off the bench in the second half to replace Jim Woodward, who suffered a slight injury. The former St. Mary's star scored seven points.

An Early Deficit

Though the Senators shot 55 per cent, they won this game the hard way. The upstarters were red hot in the first six minutes, pulling away to a 23-5 lead. Coach Mike Perry's quintet started the long road back and finally moved ahead just before the half. They left the floor on the front end of a 44-36 score and were never in trouble after that.

Brad Meyer and Cliff Schoonmaker, the Ulster "big" boys, dominated the backboards with 18 rebounds each. They also scored in double figures with Meyer getting 17 points and Schoonmaker 14. Woodward added 11 before getting hurt.

The locals were scheduled to travel to St. Joseph's tonight for a meeting with the seminary quintet from Calicoon. However, with Bill Egan nursing an injured ankle, and with examinations beginning next week, Perry was trying to cancel the contest at an early hour this morning.

Wiltwyck Defeats St. Mary's, 45-36

Wiltwyck Eagles beat St. Mary's Pee Wee One, 45-36, in a recent exhibition game at the Ulster Park court. Jim Allen had 18 points for the winners while Jim Ferraro's 16 paced St. Mary's.

Scoring by quarters: Wiltwyck 11, 13, 17, 2-45; St. Mary's 7, 3, 17, 13-36.

West 7 Point Choice Over East in Pro Bowl

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—In the Pro Bowl—the National Football League's annual East-West post season test—it's not uncommon to be carried from the field. The question Sunday is whether the West's All-Stars plan to come in that way.

"We're all right now," reported Green Bay Packer Coach Vince Lombardi for the West on the eve of the 16th annual Classic.

He said that two starting question marks—flanker Jimmy Orr of Baltimore and defensive tackle Alex Karras of Detroit Lions had both overcome recent injuries.

Orr pulled a muscle in his left thigh during a practice Tuesday. But by Friday he was running through assignments. Karras sprained an ankle this week.

The East squad, coached by Blanton Collier of Cleveland, has had no injuries—except for tackle Dick Schafrath whose leg was not recovered from a jolt he received playing for the Cleveland Browns in the championship game against Green Bay.

The St. Louis Cardinals' Ernie McMillan will start for Schafrath.

Kingston Shoots Only 30 Per Cent

Kingston High shot a poor 30 per cent last night at Newburgh, getting but 15 baskets in 50 attempts. The locals were also outrebounded, 45-28, and that explains why they lost a 63-53 DUSO decision.

Shooting: Dan Heppner, 4-15; Leon Hanna, 0-1; Ron Lindsay, 1-7; Richie VanDyke, 2-8; Gary VanEtten, 4-8; John Spinneweber, 3-8; Brian Bach, 1-3. Total 15-50.

Rebounding: Heppner, 5; Hanna, 2; Lindsay, 2; VanDyke, 6; VanEtten, 2; Spinneweber, 10; Bach, 1. Total 28. Assists: Lindsay, 2; VanEtten, 1; Heppner, 1. Total 4.

Beacon Wallops Pioneers, 87-55

Unbeaten Beacon made it 10 straight for the season by easily outscoring visiting Poughkeepsie, 87-55, in a DCSL tilt last night at the Southern Dutchess gym.

Lou Jackson had 23 and Nate Milligan 22 points for the powerful Bulldogs. Fred Johnson's 20 topped the Pioneers.

The home side tallied 47 points in a second half burst to clinch the verdict.

Locals Manage Only 15 Baskets In DUSO Setback

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

You have to put the ball through the hoop to win games and Kingston High cagers have had trouble doing that most of the year.

Despite the fact they gave a splendid defensive performance last night at Newburgh, coach Jack Gilligan's cagers managed only 15 field goals (four in the second half) and were beaten, 63-53, thus just about thwarting their slim DUSO pennant hopes.

The high scoring Goldbacks had their hands full with the visitors from start to finish. In fact, with six minutes left to play, the clubs were embraced in a 45-45 deadlock, despite the fact the locals couldn't throw a ball into the ocean during the third and fourth periods.

It was Art Robertson, a top flight reserve, who turned the bitter struggle in favor of the home side.

Ahead For Good

After Ronnie Lindsay had canned a pair of foul shots to knot the score at 45-45, Robertson made a basket and two free throws to shove the Goldies ahead for keeps. They went on to outscore the Maroon players, 18-8, the rest of the way to wrap up their fourth straight circuit win and hand Kingston a second league loss.

The first half was a donnybrook with the biggest lead by either side being four points. Abe Frazier, the NFA star, picked up his fourth personal just before intermission and Robertson was sent in as a replacement. He proved to be the right tonic in those final hectic minutes.

Once the Goldies moved ahead, the locals were forced to come out for the ball and starters Dan Heppner and John Spinneweber, and reserve Leon Hanna fouled out. Newburgh collected the free throws and added to the lead.

It was foul shooting which kept Kingston in the game. The losers made their first 10 in the opening half and made 23 for 31 during the encounter.

Newburgh visits Monticello on Tuesday and a win over the Monties will give the Goldies a two-game bulge on the rest of the field. Kingston is idle until next Friday's circuit assignment at Liberty.

Both Armstrong's and Ray's opened with impressive wins last week. The Eagles disposed of Hub Delicatessen while the Tackle Shop beat Foster's Coach House of Rhinebeck.

Colgate Cagers Defeat Buffalo

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Colgate's Red Raiders basketball quintet, fresh from a close 76-74 victory over the University of Buffalo, is eager to move up to a .500 record as it takes on Alfred tonight.

Gary Blongiewicz fired a one-hander from the corner Friday night to edge Colgate over the Bulls.

The score was tied 12 times during the game, including a half-time deadlock of 38-38. George Daizell paced Colgate with 21 points, while Bill Barth earned 19 for the Bulls.

The Red Raiders record is 3-4, while Buffalo is 5-3. In other games involving Upstate college teams:—Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute players scored 46 per cent from the field as they routed Harpur, 74-41.

Kurt Hollaseh made 20 points as RPI roared to its fifth win in eight games.

Jim Ruf Makes Winning Shot In Final Seconds

Jim Ruf made a jump shot with 20 seconds of an overtime session remaining and Wappingers Falls stymied a Saugerties High upset bid, 64-63, in a DCSL clash last night at the SHS gym.

Held to only six points by a tremendous Sawyer defense, Ruf canned the winning shot only seconds after Ron MacRae of the home side had scored from underneath to give the losers a 63-62 lead.

Tim Murphy narrowly missed a shot with several seconds to play and the Fallsmen ran out the clock and stopped a third straight attempt by the home side to score an overtime win. Previously, coach Bud Smith's club had stopped Lourdes and Onteora in extra sessions.

26 For Fincher Lee Fincher, hitting from near the foul line, scored 26 points for the Fallsmen, picking up Ruf's slack. MacRae led a well-balanced SHS attack with 16 points.

The home side had starter Bob Whitney and top flight reserve Roy Welton foul out late in the game.

Wappingers captured the jayvee contest, 64-46. Saugerties travels to Poughkeepsie next Tuesday night for a DCSL contest with the Pioneers.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Having been summoned by his superiors to establish residence in Colorado, Ronnie Marks is leaving the area and the Ulster county golf scene in the next few days.

It would not be an overstatement to say that the golf domain will never again be the same.

One of the county's better golfers, Ronnie is a charter member of Wiltwyck Country Club's colorful band of Young Turks that emerged from the caddy ranks to dominate the club scene. You'd have to list Leon Randall, Clancy Van Aken, Harvey Bostic and Brian Smith in the pack.

A seemingly unobtrusive performer, Marks is blessed with a sly sense of humor and a finely honed needle. It has devastated more than one opponent.

Ronnie has two major titles to his credit — the 1955 Wiltwyck club championship and the 1963 Wiltwyck Invitational, one of the prestigious events of the area. He has been a consistent prize winner in the Herdegen Memorial, finished fourth in 1959.

• The Ribner Incident: We cannot let Ronnie leave Kingston without recalling an incident he may have long since forgotten.

It was in the New York State Amateur tournament at Dutchess in Poughkeepsie where Marks fashioned one of the prize upsets of his career. He knocked off Lloyd Ribner of Fenway, one of the true aristocrats of the state circuit, 2 and 1.

Lincoln Werden, The Man from the Times, seated in the press was astonished at the news. We just happened to have a camera with us at the time and suggested that Mr. Ribner congratulate him on the 18th green. He was either terribly embarrassed or incensed at having been taken by the unknown from Kingston and testily refused at first. Finally, he was persuaded to pose for the shot. It was the toughest picture we ever snapped.

The golf community and his fellow workmen at IBM wish Ronnie well in his new post. He should have no difficulties. Everything, including golf balls and needles, travels farther in that Colorado air.

• Compare the Big Four: Keep this clipping. It may win you a couple of baseball arguments along the way. It's a career comparison of four great left handed pitchers — Lefty Grove, Warren Spahn, Carl Hubbell and Sandy Koufax.

Koufax — 11 seasons, 356 games, 2,022 innings pitched, 138 won, 78 lost, .639 winning percentage; 732 runs, 651 earned runs, 2,079 strikeouts, 740 bases on balls; 2.93 earned run average; 35 shutouts.

Hubbell — 16 seasons, 535 games, 3,591 innings pitched; 253 won, 154 lost, .622 winning percentage; 1,380 runs, 1,188 earned runs, 1,677 strikeouts, 725 bases on balls, 2.98 earned run average; 36 shutouts.

Grove — 17 seasons, 616 games, 3,940 innings pitched; 300 won, 140 lost, .682 winning percentage; 1,594 runs, 1,399 earned runs, 2,266 strikeouts, 1,187 bases on balls; 3.06 earned run average, 33 shutouts.

Spahn — 21 seasons, 750 games; 5,246 innings pitched; 363 won, 245 lost, .597 winning percentage; 2,014 runs, 1,799 earned runs, 2,584 strikeouts, 1,434 bases on balls; 3.09 earned run average; 63 shutouts.

• Anybody Know Mr. Vogt?: Alvin E. Foss of East Kingston, N.H. has written the local American Legion post seeking information on the whereabouts of A. Vogt of Kingston.

Foss does not recall the first name of Mr. Vogt, who was World War I sergeant. Mr. Foss writes:

In April, 1918, in France, a sergeant of the 303rd Engineers, 78th Division, challenged my company ball team to a game. My pitcher, Sterling (Dutch) Stryker later pitched for the Boston Braves (1924), with Casey Stengel in right field and later spent some time in Double A ball.

We played for 3,200 francs and won 4-0. My ace gave only two hits.

"The sergeant's name was A Vogt and was from Kingston. Does he happen to be there now? If so, I'd love to have his address so I might challenge him — croquet or something — and no bets. Hell yes, on my court I'll still risk a few francs."

If he is around, I'd like to hear about it. At 74, I'm still mobile and can still talk a good fight. It's okay if you select the opponent carefully.

P.S. — I'm a former captain of Co. I, 311th Infantry, A.E.F. With that first name I have, you can see who's going to be the guy to retire that guy who wrote the chipmunk song.

Can any of you old timers shed some light on A Vogt?

be observed in the Plattkill Re-formed Church at 11 a. m.

Sunday morning, Jan. 9, the following officers were ordained and installed at the Plattkill Reformed Church: Elders, Lyndon Seaver and David Bogert; deacons, Ira Brown and Joseph Myers. Deacon Dale VanLoan could not be present and will be ordained and installed at a later date.

Hit by Car, Dies TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Allan Bell, 34, of nearby Speigeltown, N.Y., killed Friday when struck by an automobile on Route 40 near his home. He was 6.

The youngster was playing with his two sisters when, police say, he darted in front of the car.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bell of 312 Speigeltown Road, R.D.

N.Y. Estate Law Commission Due To File Bills

After four years of research and analysis, the Temporary State Commission on the Modernization, Revision and Simplification of the Law of Estates will propose two sweeping and far-reaching bills to the 1966 New York State Legislature, it was learned today.

Judge John D. Bennett, Surrogate of Nassau County, who has headed the Commission since its inception in 1961, said that "As a result of hundreds of meetings and suggestions by Advisory and Bar groups, the public and legislators, the Commission has completely overhauled and codified the substantive and procedural statutes of the Law of Estates."

The Law of Estates, which had its beginnings in the early Colonial days, it was reported, has been updated, clarified and consolidated in two functional volumes — one of procedure entitled "Surrogate's Court Procedure Act" (SCPA) and one of substantive law, "Estates, Powers and Trusts Law (EPTL)."

No Complete Revision In submitting the two bills, Judge Bennett said that "there has been no complete revision of Surrogate's Court procedure in more than half a century (1912 Revision Commission) and until the Commission on Estates had its recommendations adopted by the Legislature in 1961, no major changes were made in the substantive law of estates since the Foley Commission (1927-1933)."

Since the Commission launched its all-important program in 1961 under Judge Bennett, New York State reportedly has made "tremendous" progress in terms of "Social Legislation" and today ranks as tops in this field.

Some of the more significant changes made in the Commission program include these: Adopted children now are eligible to share in estates of the families of their adopted parents; widows, previously entitled only to property included in the will, now may also elect to take a share of property passing outside of a will, such as revocable trusts, joint bank accounts, joint tenancy, etc., an illegitimate child who previously could only inherit from the mother if she left no surviving legitimate descendants, now has the right to inherit from the mother and her family, and the natural father under a court declaration of paternity.

Made Several Changes In presenting the two new bills to the State Legislature on the reorganization, Judge Bennett emphasized that "Our Commission took separate sections of the pre-reform and substantive law of estates, looked them over carefully, made major changes for clarification, simplification and modernization, then rearranged them as part of a whole." He added: "Changes proposed have been made in accordance with modern thinking, rather than the past. We recognize the social and economic changes which have developed in our society over recent decades. We have attempted to define similar lengthy phrases or terms to reduce the need for repetition and eliminated words or phrases used in different senses in the act and statutes so that a 'defined word shall be a word of a whole.'"

Among 55 bills enacted in the past few years by the State Legislature, which the Commission feels eliminated many archaic and cumbersome provisions and accounted for social and economic changes which have developed in modern society over recent decades.

Surrogate Arthur A. Davis Jr., of Ulster County, who assumed that office last Jan. 1, said that he has not yet seen copies of the proposed bills for 1966, but added, "I know that the Commission is working on the revisions for several years. How close they will come to complete revision I couldn't say at this time."

Among the 17 members comprising the Commission is W. Vincent Grady, of Beacon, Dutchess County surrogate.

4 Person Hurt able to stop. Troopers cited her for following too closely.

Trooper C. J. Bebensee investigated.

A sports-type motorcycle operator was injured in a collision with a truck late Friday afternoon on Lucas Avenue Extension in the Town of Ulster.

Troopers said that Charles F. Coogan, 17, of Box 271, Route 4, Kingston, was driving a 1965 model 'cycle north and was making a turn into a private driveway when the vehicle struck the right side of a truck driven by Gerald W. Howland Jr., 18, of Box 285, Kingston, RD 4. Coogan was taken to Benedictine Hospital for treatment of abrasions to the right side and cuts to the lips and right foot. Howland escaped injury.

Trooper C. T. Searles investigated.

Earlier, troopers said, Charles R. Silhavy, 65, of Rt. 2, School Road, Voorheesville, N. Y., was driving a 1966 model car north on Rt. 9W Saugerties, when his vehicle went off the west side of the road and struck a mailbox

FIRST PLACE WINNER—Miss Marilyn Sauer of Saugerties, pictured above with Sister M. Alacoe, principal of St. Peter's School, Kingston, took first place in the fourth annual short story contest sponsored by the Ulster County CYO. A student at St. Peter's, Miss Sauer's story was "The Tink Tink Tinka Dance." The CYO office at 23 West Pierpont Street reported a total of 113 short stories were submitted. Miss Sauer is 13 years old. (Freeman photo by Wagenfohr)

Saugerties Thanks Extended For Gifts Here

The following gifts were gratefully acknowledged by the Ellen Russell Finger Home of Saugerties this week:

Girl Scouts of Malden, table decorations; Ladies' Aid Society of the High Woods Reformed Church, baskets of fruit and groceries; Lutheran Church, flowers and cookies; Margaret and Albert Rossmann of Baltimore, Md., flowers, in memory of Anna Steenken; Mrs. Mary Wells, Christmas tree and table decorations; Mrs. Walter Cowen, homemade bread; Boy Scouts and leaders of Troop 32, basket of fruit and vegetables; Hudson Valley Lodge 432, cookies; Silver Lake Dairy, a quart of sweet cream; Centerville Methodist Church, fruit and vegetables; Cheerful Workers of the Blue Mountain Reformed Church, fruit, vegetables and fruit cake; Cub Scouts of Mt. Marion, 2 canned hams and groceries; Corner Bakery, cookies; Cub Scout Pack 32 of the Lutheran Church, ice cream; Mrs. Ethel Jehle, cookies and homemade pickles; Methodist Church of Saugerties poinsettia plant; Sunday School of First Baptist Church, groceries; Mrs. Olga Decker, homemade coffee cake.

Gifts of money were given by Mr. and Mrs. Rutgers Ives Hurry, in memory of Anna Steenken, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Van Etten, the WSCS of the Saugerties Methodist Church, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Benzenhoefer.

Each of the ladies received individual gifts from the following: Mission Study Group of Blue Mountain Reformed Church; Trinity Episcopal Church; Home-makers' Craft Club of Saugerties; Mrs. Martha Whitney; Mrs. Decker; Mrs. Ned Bond and the Lutheran Church.

The Pioneer Girls of the First Baptist Church and members of the Centerville Methodist Church presented each of the ladies with gifts and also sang Christmas carols. Other groups who sang carols at the Home this Christmas season were: Young people of the Methodist Church, Cub Scouts of Mt. Marion and the CYO of St. Mary's of the Snow.

A Christmas party was given by the Board of Managers and a gift given to each of the ladies. Musical selections for the party were played by Christine Beckert, Melinda Walele, Wendy Wolven and Maureen Luley. The centerpiece was made by Mrs. Alice Armstrong and Mrs. Lewis Fellows.

Listed Satisfactory The condition of Nicholas Iovine, 30, of Churchland Lane, Saugerties, continued to improve at Albany Medical Center. Transferred to Albany from Kingston Hospital in "critical" condition, he has been listed successively in Albany as "critical," "fair," and "satisfactory." Iovine was the victim of a gunshot wound in the abdomen, allegedly inflicted by 20-year-old Frederick Haas, of Route 4, Saugerties. The shooting incident occurred near midnight on the evening of Dec. 22 near the Barclay Heights Mobile Service Station. Haas is at liberty in bail of $500 pending an adjourned hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert Ferrigan.

Monday Deadline For Income Taxes

Final payment of estimated Federal income tax on 1965 income is due Monday, Jan. 17, according to Donald T. Hartley, Albany District Director of Internal Revenue services North-eastern New York State.

Taxpayers who previously filed a declaration of estimated tax, but who believe that changes in income or exemptions occurring during the last quarter of 1965 will cause their income to be substantially more or less than originally estimated, may be required to file an amended declaration. This declaration also is due Jan. 17.

MVB Extends Deadline

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state motor vehicle commission today extended to midnight next Monday the deadline for installation of 1966 registration plates for a wide range of business vehicles and trucks.

Commissioner William S. Hulls said he was pushing the date back 48 hours because Jan. 15—the normal deadline date for such vehicles—falls on a Saturday.

The commissioner's action applies to plates for commercial, tractor, trailer, commercial semi-trailer, agricultural, special-purpose commercial and farm vehicles.

UMW Union Fails To Name Officer To Fill Vacancy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The executive board of the United Mine Workers union has failed for the fourth straight day to select a new vice president.

The board has been meeting in Washington this week, and each day it was expected to make a decision.

A spokesman said the matter might be handled today.

In the running are Joe Yablonski, president of District 3 in western Pennsylvania; Harrison Combs, assistant director of the union's legal department; John M. Kmetz of Nanticoke, Pa., director of the union; and George Titler, head of District 29 in Beckley, W.Va.

The $40,000-a-year post became vacant with the retirement of Raymond O. Lewis, brother of former union leader John L. Lewis.

The job is considered a stepping stone to the presidency now held by W. A. (Tony) Boyle.

At its session Friday, the board criticized the Department of Interior for authorizing an increase in residual oil imports.

In a resolution, it said the decision was a mockery, a cruel blow to miners and a danger to national security.

Two Are Found Dead in Parked Car on Friday

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP) — A man and woman, reported missing when they did not return from a date, were found dead Friday in an automobile parked in a field near Route 17-K near here.

They were identified as William McDonald, 25, of Bullville, and Miss Rosemarie Colanauono, 21, of Maybrook. The woman's mother, Mrs. Lena Colanauono, reported them missing and discovered the bodies.

Coroner Harvey Agnew of Newburgh ruled the deaths accidental due to carbon monoxide poisoning.

Killed in Collision

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — Harry Ferguson, 35, of Clarks Summit, Pa., was killed Friday in the collision of two tractor-trailer trucks on Route 12 just south of this village.

State Police said the other truck driver was not injured.

9 Are Injured In Trailer-Bus Thruway Mishap

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — Nine persons were injured, one seriously, when a tractor-trailer and a Greyhound bus carrying 38 passengers collided Friday night on the Thruway near here.

James Hardie, 23, of Attica, a passenger, was reported in serious condition in Ellis Hospital here.

A hospital spokesman said the others were not injured seriously, including Gustav Braat, 47, of Toledo, Ohio, the bus driver.

The bus was enroute from Syracuse to New York City.

State Police said they believed the truck hit the left-rear of the bus. Both vehicles were eastbound.

The hospital identified the persons admitted to the hospital as:

Harry Coons, Schenectady; Helen Ostuni, 78, Mattydale; Gustav Braat, 47, Toledo, Ohio.

Louella Gillani, 43, Syracuse; Max Millgram, 64, New York City.

Ray Long, Streetsboro, Ohio; James Donaldson, Springfield, Ohio.

Dutchess Driver Faces 2 Charges

A Town of Red Hook man in Dutchess county faces two charges as a result of a scuffle with a State Trooper late Friday afternoon on Route 9 in the village of Rhinebeck.

Trooper Frank Streiter of the Rhinebeck-Hyde Park substation of State Police arrested Philip Meldrom, 53, of Metzger Road, Red Hook on charges of speeding and resisting arrest.

He said that he stopped Meldrom, described as a carpenter by trade, on Rt. 9 for speeding. He said that Meldrom refused to accept a summons for speeding and became abusive. A scuffle ensued until the trooper was assisted by a passing motorist.

Walter Simmons, of Livingston Street, Rhinebeck, who stopped to aid the trooper.

Meldrom was released in $100 bail for a hearing at 10 a. m., Jan. 24, before Peace Justice William Pollard, Village of Rhinebeck, on the resisting arrest charge. He is to appear before Peace Justice Clarence the speeding charge.

The incident occurred about 5 p. m.

Service Brings Remedial Procedures, Eases Fears

A cardiac consultation service at Kingston Hospital, formulated and under the direction of Dr. Harold L. Rakov, has brought remedial procedures to many, and—almost as important—relief from fear to others.

Since its establishment in the Spring of 1961, the consultation service has examined 207 patients, of whom 17 were selected for heart surgery.

Free After Referral Available free of charge to patients after referral by their personal physician, the cardiac consultation service is intended primarily for the selection of potentially surgically remedial cases.

Of nearly equal importance, however, in the opinion of Dr. Rakov, is the fact that the consultation establishes equivocally whether murmurs are innocent or associated with heart disease.

"Particularly in children, it is well accepted that the majority of murmurs are benign and not associated with structural heart disease," Dr. Rakov said.

Because of uncertainty, many children prior to a consultation had lead inactive lives, but after the consultation showed the murmur was benign have been able to resume normal activities.

Associated with Dr. Rakov in the cardiac consultation service is Dr. Edmond Reppert, director of cardiac research at the University Hospital in New York City. He spoke here Jan. 11 at the annual meeting of the medical staff of The Kingston Hospital, on the topic: "Selection of Patients for Cardiac Surgery."

A patient referred by his physician is first examined and screened locally by Dr. Rakov. A complete history and physical examination is made, with X-ray and electrocardiograph. The resulting opinion and diagnosis is forwarded to the personal physician.

In suspect or doubtful cases, the patient is examined further by Dr. Reppert during a scheduled visit to the hospital. When indicated, the patient may be sent to University Hospital for further studies, and if necessary, heart surgery. The entire procedure is without cost to the patient.

Echoes certainly cropped up in the recent French presidential election. More than half his countrymen voted against De Gaulle in the initial round, bringing a runoff race. De Gaulle finally won, but his European policies continued to cost him votes.

Late in the campaign — too late, for many voters — De Gaulle began saying that the six-nation Common Market eventually should be extended to other countries.

Repeated Theme De Gaulle repeated this theme in his New Year's Eve address to the nation. He said France is ready to resume negotiations on the Common Market's agricultural policy "on conditions which are equitable and reasonable, and with the hope that on such a base other neighbors will join in."

On Nov. 22, De Gaulle received Edward Heath, leader of the British Conservative party, whose nose was caught in that slamming door.

De Gaulle — according to a spokesman — later told his Cabinet that Britain had evolved and now seemed more prepared for Common Market membership. This was a marked shift from Jan. 14, 1963, when De Gaulle denounced Britain as an "insular people" unfit for a European role.

Chiefly as a result of the French elections, advocates of European union feel there will never again be a French veto against Britain. They also feel De Gaulle will never again dare to send the Common Market partners an ultimatum such as one that produced the present crisis on agricultural policy.

Recalled Delegates This refers to De Gaulle's recall of French delegates from Brussels, Belgium, last June 30. France walked out of Common Market consultations and has boycotted them since. The foreign ministers' meeting in Luxembourg next week is designed to correct this situation. It will be the first meeting with France in attendance since June.

Some pro-Europeans even feel that as soon as the agricultural policy crisis is settled, De Gaulle would welcome British membership for three reasons:

1. Britain could counterbalance or offset West Germany's influence.

2. Britain would bolster De Gaulle's own struggle against "federalist" or supranational tendencies within the community.

3. It would enhance De Gaulle's domestic political position in advance of next year's legislative elections.

This is one explanation advanced for De Gaulle's choice of ex-Premier Edgar Faure as agriculture minister in the new French Cabinet. Faure, known for his pro-European views, will have the task of resuming and successfully concluding the Brussels negotiations.

It generally is agreed that this must be achieved before the question of British membership can be revived. As long as the Labor party is in power another requisite, of course, would be a decision by Prime Minister Harold Wilson to seek entry. Wilson would not be expected to decide until the Common Market surmounts its own crisis. He might also prefer to await a British general election.

If the Conservatives won such an election and Heath became prime minister, the situation conceivably would be simpler. But even Heath would not be expected to move until the six nations had put their own house in order.

What Effects In the three years since that door was slammed, what have been the practical effects?

The advocates of European unity see it this way:

There was little if any effect on the community's basic economic policies. The community prepared and submitted a liberal trade position in the Geneva "Kennedy Round" negotiations. Although unwilling, or unable, to widen its own circle, the community remained an "open" one in terms of world trade.

One practical effect went somewhat unnoticed at the time. It severely restricted the application of the American Trade Expansion Act which otherwise would have authorized the U.S. administration to remove tariffs completely from a wide range of goods in the "Kennedy Round" talks. As things stand now, in nearly all

DeGaulle Studies Decision

Slammed Door of Common Market In Britain's Face, May Relent

By JOSEPH E. DYAN

PARIS (AP) — Three years ago today, Charles de Gaulle slammed the European Common Market door in Britain's face.

The crash is still echoing down diplomatic corridors but there are signs that the French president has — perhaps reluctantly — relented, and now may be ready to welcome the British into the European family.

Britain Must Decide

This assumes that Britain would like to get in. At least one outstanding advocate of European union feels that the real decision lies in London, not Paris.

Some of these advocates link the sound of that slamming door to the crisis within the Common Market, the disputes over Atlantic political planning, the stalemate in the "Kennedy Round" tariff negotiations, and controversy over the shape and role of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Echoes certainly cropped up in the recent French presidential election. More than half his countrymen voted against De Gaulle in the initial round, bringing a runoff race. De Gaulle finally won, but his European policies continued to cost him votes.

Late in the campaign — too late, for many voters — De Gaulle began saying that the six-nation Common Market eventually should be extended to other countries.

Repeated Theme De Gaulle repeated this theme in his New Year's Eve address to the nation. He said France is ready to resume negotiations on the Common Market's agricultural policy "on conditions which are equitable and reasonable, and with the hope that on such a base other neighbors will join in."

On Nov. 22, De Gaulle received Edward Heath, leader of the British Conservative party, whose nose was caught in that slamming door.

De Gaulle — according to a spokesman — later told his Cabinet that Britain had evolved and now seemed more prepared for Common Market membership. This was a marked shift from Jan. 14, 1963, when De Gaulle denounced Britain as an "insular people" unfit for a European role.

Chiefly as a result of the French elections, advocates of European union feel there will never again be a French veto against Britain. They also feel De Gaulle will never again dare to send the Common Market partners an ultimatum such as one that produced the present crisis on agricultural policy.

3. It would enhance De Gaulle's domestic political position in advance of next year's legislative elections.

This is one explanation advanced for De Gaulle's choice of ex-Premier Edgar Faure as agriculture minister in the new French Cabinet. Faure, known for his pro-European views, will have the task of resuming and successfully concluding the Brussels negotiations.

It generally is agreed that this must be achieved before the question of British membership can be revived. Wilson would not be expected to decide until the Common Market surmounts its own crisis. He might also prefer to await a British general election.

If the Conservatives won such an election and Heath became prime minister, the situation conceivably would be simpler. But even Heath would not be expected to move until the six nations had put their own house in order.

What Effects In the three years since that door was slammed, what have been the practical effects?

The advocates of European unity see it this way:

There was little if any effect on the community's basic economic policies. The community prepared and submitted a liberal trade position in the Geneva "Kennedy Round" negotiations. Although unwilling, or unable, to widen its own circle, the community remained an "open" one in terms of world trade.

One practical effect went somewhat unnoticed at the time. It severely restricted the application of the American Trade Expansion Act which otherwise would have authorized the U.S. administration to remove tariffs completely from a wide range of goods in the "Kennedy Round" talks. As things stand now, in nearly all cases Washington can cut tariffs only 50 per cent instead of 100 per cent.

This is because Congress is willing to abolish tariffs on goods in cases where 80 per cent of the trade is controlled by the United States and the Common Market. If the Common Market expands to Britain, this 80 per cent requirement is met in many cases; otherwise, it is not.

This was the thinking behind De Gaulle's claim that the United States intended to "drown" the Common Market in some sort of Atlantic free trade area dominated by American business, and that Britain was thus America's Trojan horse.

This, in turn, led to stalemate and disputes between Paris and Washington over Atlantic political and economic coordination, to De Gaulle's attacks on the world monetary system and his raids on what he considers the privileged position of the dollar.

Caused Deadlock The veto of Britain also indirectly caused the present Common Market deadlock on agricultural policy.

Rocky Nominates Two in Dutchess

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today nominated Raymond E. Aldrich Jr., of Poughkeepsie as Dutchess County Family Court Judge and appointed John R. Heilmann Jr. as the county's district attorney.

If approved by the Senate, Aldrich would fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Joseph Giudice, who now is a county judge. Under terms of the appointment, Aldrich would serve until Dec. 31, 1966.

Heilmann, also of Poughkeepsie, will succeed Raymond C.

Shoplifters Fined

Friday night before Justice of the Peace Rexford Schneider of New Paltz, two college youths accused of petit larceny shoplifting were fined $250 each or in lieu thereof confinement to the county jail for four days. In lieu of the fine they were remanded to jail. The two youths were Michael A. Bogdan, 19, of Brewster and Thomas B. Niley, 18, of Bronx. The two were arrested several days ago by New Paltz police.

Barratta, who now is a Dutchess County judge, Heilmann will serve through Dec. 31, 1966.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFFLER

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The impact of the Viet Nam war on the U.S. economy became clearer during the week.

President Johnson, in his State of the Union message to Congress, announced a record $112.8-billion budget for fiscal 1967, proposed a restoration of excise taxes on automobiles and telephone calls and a speedup of income tax collections.

$58.3 Billion for Defense

The budget would provide $58.3 billion for defense spending, with a big part going for the Viet Nam war.

The President, pledging that the United States will remain in Viet Nam until Communist aggression ceases, asked Congress to reimpose the full 10 per cent tax on telephone service, which went down to 3 per cent on Jan. 1, and put the tax on new cars at 7 per cent.

It was estimated that restoration of these levies would add $1 billion to government revenues in the next year.

General Motors Corp. and American Telephone & Telegraph Co. expressed opposition to return of the taxes.

The suggested speedup in collecting corporate and individual income taxes would add $3.3 billion to government receipts in the fiscal year beginning next Jan. 1.

No Mention of Hike

Johnson made no mention of any intention to raise income tax rates.

The crippling New York City subway and bus strike was settled after 12 days of chaos. It was estimated that the transportation shutdown cost the city's businesses $500 million to $800 million.

Effects of the strike were beginning to be felt across the country. Shipments of goods from and into New York were disrupted. Garment manufacturers were especially hard hit, being unable to fill orders for spring and summer clothing.

The economic outlook was bolstered by corporate announcements of plans for huge investments in new plants and spending programs for this year.

Included American Telephone & Telegraph Co., $3.9 billion; International Paper Co., $325 million; Eastman Kodak Co., $171 million; H. J. Heinz Co., $30 million, and Radio Corp. of America, $195 million.

The Commerce Department reported that the economy boomed in the final three months of 1965 with the gross national product — total of all goods and services — reaching an annual rate of $694.5 billion. This was 2 per cent higher than in the third quarter. For 1965 as a whole, the GNP totaled $675.6 billion.

Johnson said in his State of the Union message that the GNP should climb to $720 billion or more this year.

Automobile production during the week climbed to an estimated 197,300 passenger cars, up 2 per cent from 192,713 the previous week but down 5 per cent from 207,074 a year ago.

New car sales got off to a good start in the new year with deliveries rising 11 per cent to 200,323 in the first 10 days of January from 180,636 a year earlier. It was a record for the period.

842,000 Cars Automakers set their sights on assembly of 842,000 cars in January.

Revised figures set 1965 production at a record 9,335,166 cars, topping the old record of 7,942,125 set in 1955.

The steel industry during the week posted the sharpest week-to-week gain in production in two years. Output totaled 2,312,000 tons, up 5.8 per cent from 2,185,000 tons the previous week.

Retail sales advanced in 1965 by 8 per cent from the 1964 level of $282.7 billion, the Commerce Department reported. In December, sales totaled $30.2 billion, up 7 per cent from December 1964.

Five thousand members of the National Retail Merchants Association gathered in New York and heard a prediction by James J. Bliss, the organization's executive vice president, that department store sales will rise about $10 billion to $35 billion by 1970.

Another Commerce Department report showed that manufacturing and trade inventories rose $650 million in November. Total inventories at the manufacturing, wholesale and retail levels totaled $118.3 billion at the end of November, up $9 billion from a year earlier.

Radio Corp. of America announced it was acquiring the publishing firm, Random House, Inc., for $37.7 million.
